

MINE IS ENTERED

Hill of Bodies Was Discovered by Searching Party

Work of Bringing the Bodies to the Surface Begun—The Town Hall Turned Into Temporary Morgue—Scenes of Horror

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 19.—The St. Paul, has been almost conquered. Mine inspectors and geological experts succeeded today after an all day and all night battle in clearing the shafts of the burning mine and early today Chicago firemen and a group of miners penetrated the galleries and for two hours and a half fought the smoldering fire in the coal veins. At 6 o'clock a second group of miners and railroad men entered the mine. All of them were working without oxygen helmets or apparatus and they suffered no ill effects from noxious gases or smoke.

The firemen discovered in the second vein a hill of bodies. "How soon the bodies can be recovered is uncertain because the east portion of the gallery in which the fire originated is badly caved in and debris will have to be taken out and timbers erected to insure safety to the workmen. In the west portion of the gallery the fire still is burning but firemen have succeeded in getting into the vein with lines of hose for a distance of 50 feet. James O'Connor, a Chicago fireman emerged from the main shaft early today and declared that the fire would be extinguished before many hours. O'Connor saw a pile of human bodies buried in the wreckage of the gallery turning from the main shaft to the air vent and also saw bodies lying in heaps in the west vein where the fire was burning.

Early in the morning after the fire had made their first descent and had turned a stream of water into the galleries without leaving the cage the fire in the west vein appeared to be fading. This gave rise to a report that it would be impossible to struggle further against the fury of the fire and that the mine must be closed. Inspector James Taylor sent a company of volunteer workmen into the mine at six o'clock to repair the approach to the east vein. The timbers, a few feet from the cage, had been burned out. Taylor explored the gallery in which the fire originated, going in as far as the obstructions caused by collapse of the walls.

It was the general opinion of the miners that bodies could be taken out before many hours. How many bodies already have been discovered was not disclosed.

Three bodies, the first recovered through the main shaft, were brought to the surface at 8 o'clock. A pile of others were in sight but passage to them for the time being was hampered by fire.

Four other bodies were brought up on the next trip of the cage one of them a boy. The ambulance, guarded by militiamen, was followed by a crowd to the town hall which has been turned into a temporary morgue. Here scores of women sought to identify the dead as their own but the condition of the bodies made this difficult.

Two of the bodies were quickly identified. One was that of Richard Buckles, a stableboy, the other that of Louis Gibbs, Gibbs' widow was too ill to leave her home. The body was identified by Gibbs' former comrades.

There were many women in the crowd that gathered about the bodies, but there were more children. All looked at the bodies and one after another turned away, some weeping silently, others choked with sobs.

"I was at Messina after the earthquake, but the scenes following that catastrophe were no more pathetic than this," said E. P. Becknell, national Red Cross representative.

Among those in the crowd were a woman and her little daughter. The child tried to comfort her. "Never mind," said the little one. "We'll find papa," but her hopeful prattle fell on unheeding ears as the mother made no reply.

Lincoln St. Arson Case Resumed Today

The case of Margaret Adams, charged with maliciously burning the dwelling house belonging to Robert G. Bartlett at 240 Lincoln street on the morning of November 7th and also attempting to defraud two insurance companies, was resumed before Judge Hadley in the police court this morning.

The greater portion of yesterday was devoted to the hearing of the government's case and when the matter was called this morning Lawyer J. Joseph O'Connor presented the defendant's case.

William Henry Adams, the husband of the defendant, was the first witness called. He said that he lived at 240 Lincoln street and up to August of this year he had been employed in the fermenting room at the Harvard brewery.

Witness identified a chair produced in evidence as having been in the kitchen of his house. He said that all that was burned in the kitchen was the side of the wall and the chair which had been offered.

Mr. Adams stated that there was a clothes line strung from the kitchen to the bedroom. He then went into a detailed statement of articles in the different rooms, together with the value of each article.

Witness testified that he went to Pawtucket, R. I., on the 19th of October for the purpose of working. While down there he sold some land he owned in that city to the park commissioners of Pawtucket, making a profit of $200 on the deal. He came back to Lowell on the 29th of October. On the morning of the fire in the house in Lincoln street witness and his daughter were in Lexington.

Mr. Margaret Adams, the defendant, was the next witness called. She testified to being alone in the house on the night of the fire. She told of being awakened by what sounded to her as though a person was scratching on something. She became frightened and started for the house of a neighbor. As she was leaving the house she turned around and saw the form of a man in the pantry.

Mrs. Adams said she kept kerosene oil in a two gallon can. She did not know what part of the house the can was in prior to the fire. Neither was she sure the last time that she used the oil, but was in the habit of filling the lamps every night and may have used the oil the night before the fire, when she was starting a fire in the stove.

Witness said that there was a clothes line stretched from the bedroom, where the fire started, to the kitchen.

Referring to some waste that was admitted to her yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Adams said that she often found waste in the pockets of her husband's overalls when she went to wash them. Sometimes the waste was dirty and oily and she generally threw it away. She testified that she had also used some of the waste for cleaning the kitchen stove.

"Did you set any fire in your house on that Saturday night or Sunday morning?" asked Lawyer O'Connor. "No," was the answer.

On cross-examination witness said that she took a bath during the latter part of the afternoon and retired about 11 o'clock. About 11:30 o'clock she awoke and feeling cold arose and lit a fire and sat down until she got warmed. Some time afterwards she heard some person making a scratching noise and becoming frightened, started to go to the house of a neighbor. As she left the house she turned around and saw a man in her pantry. She started to run, but fell down and was rendered unconscious. The next thing that she knew was when she was found by the firemen.

UPWARD MOVEMENT

WAS NOTICED IN THE STOCK MARKET TODAY

Copper Caused a Slight Reaction—Amalgamated Copper Reopened Over a Point—Selling Pressure Was a Depressing Influence

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Prices moved upwards quite generally in the trading in stocks which were well distributed through the list. Utah Copper points, P. and United States Steel gained 1 and Reading, N. Y. Central and St. Louis and San Francisco second pids, large fractions.

The tendency continued upward for a while during which Union Pacific receded and a number of specialties showed exceptional strength. Realizing in Reading, N. Y. Central and St. Louis and San Francisco second pids, large fractions.

Selling pressure on Amalgamated Copper caused a moderate reaction in which the railroad stocks fell slightly below yesterday's closing prices. Amalgamated Copper receded over a point to 96. Later a number of new stocks came into prominence. Reading got 1 1/2 above yesterday's closing price and returned to where it left off yesterday.

Selling pressure on Amalgamated Copper below 96 was a depressing influence. U. S. Steel, P. and United States Steel, Des Moines rose 1/4, the preferred Central Ry. of N. J. and American Express, Louisville & Nashville 2 and N. Y. and Western Union ran off 1/4. Bonds were firm.

Although there has been much comment already advanced upon the nature of the new consolidated copper interests, still this seemed to be the only question worthy of consideration in the stock market this morning. When the market was opened, despite the continuous inquiries made upon the officials of the different companies which are to have a membership in the new consolidation, nothing definite in the future plans of the company have been made known. However, which was made known this morning, was that Amalgamated, which will not be represented on the board of government of the company, was receding with regret by many who had taken advantage of the opportunity to buy this stock when it began on its advance in the stock market.

The shares of this stock were sold sought for by many who were of the impression that despite the rallies which have been having for several weeks, if it was included in the new company its value would surely recede to higher prices. The reasons for the non-membership of this company in the new consolidation, so far as has been made known, were as follows: First, the law does not allow the company to have an interest in a holding company with that of an operating company; second, it was thought that in the event of the Amalgamated company being included in the new consolidation, the forming of a copper monopoly would be the inevitable result, at least that is the way the officials of this stock were looking at it, and rather than have this monopoly gain ground, it was considered best to leave the Amalgamated company out. Third, the company had other business to attend to, and the idea of a copper monopoly will be discouraged.

Utah copper was the selling stock of the metal list today and the acquiring of this stock in large sales by the interests of the Hayden, Stone and Company led the traders to believe it was being bought as a good investment security. The feature of the buying of this stock was that the companies which were taking it were their utmost to buy without bidding the stock up.

Copper opened with good prices in the market in Boston this morning. Lake, which for the past day or two has shown some good rallies opened at 43 and after a few minutes' heavy transactions it assumed 44 points and at 12 o'clock was selling for 44 1/2. North Butte was showing 69, but in a short time advanced to 70 and 1/2. A point was made; Utah Consolidated after good sales of yesterday was selling at 47, but at noon had reached the 49 mark and was selling at 49 1/2. The list of copper in the morning showed up strong and the business in it was the heaviest for some time.

The trouble which has existed between J. A. Murray and the North Butte company, which was placed on which at times assumed threatening prospects, was settled this week when the strip of land belonging to the capitalist was purchased by the company. The claim which has been the cause of the litigation between the two was that of North Butte which is situated between the Murray and other holdings of the North Butte company. Already the North Butte officials have begun operations on the new land and are tunneling and building other properties through this last purchase.

Contests were in line for some selling today and the stock was placed on a par with copper. Reading, which during the last two sessions of the market has shown good rallies at this time receiving much attention from the speculators.

At the next meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Pacific company, they will be asked to authorize the issuing of $175,000,000 refunding convertible 5 per cent. bonds, which will be redeemable at 110 and interest on Sept. 1st, 1917, or any interest date thereafter. Of the bonds $23,500,000 are now being offered to stockholders at 95 and interest and have been withdrawn by the firm of Kahn, Loeb and company. The meeting of the stockholders will be held on Jan. 15, 1910. If the bonds of the company which are at this time being offered to the stockholders receive a ready sale it will enable the company to pay off its floating debt and the balance will be used for the improvement and the betterment of the existing conditions of the road.

The shipments of gold from this country to foreign ports for this week include the following: Bank of Commerce, of New York, $250,000 to Argentina. Kidder, Peabody Co., $300,000, destination not made known.

While there is no favorable element in the Cole-Ryan crowd for Parrott, it is clear in market that if there is another improvement in Amalgamated, this stock will also have a boom.

Boston Copper Market

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Dealings in local copper continued heavy today with firm prices at the opening. Later there were slight reductions in a few leaders, North Butte which opened at 69, falling to 65 with a fractional recovery.

The Copper Combine

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Consideration of the earning power of the various properties which may enter the proposed copper combine was given today by the financiers working out the details of the merger. It was stated that the earning power of the copper selling and other companies that will enter the proposed merger is between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, based upon 13 cent copper. These estimates of earnings, it is said, include the economies to be effected by the consolidation and the earnings of the United Metals Selling Co., the International Smelting and Refining Co., and other properties.

DIED AT SCHOOL

Mary A. Shanley Succumbed at High School

Miss Mary A. Shanley, aged 16 years, dropped dead in a class room at the High school just before recitation this forenoon. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Shanley of 26 Phillips street. Mr. Shanley is one of Lowell's well known merchants and at the present time is conducting a fur store in the Colonial building.

The sudden death of Miss Shanley, who was a favorite with teachers and pupils alike, cast such gloom upon the school as to make it almost a house of mourning. It was but a few minutes before she was stricken down that her voice was heard in merry laughter.

Her class had just convened for recitation when suddenly a low moan was heard and Miss Shanley was seen to drop from her chair to the floor. It was at first thought that she had fainted, but no time was lost in summoning medical assistance. Principal Irish dispatched four messengers for doctors who he himself used the telephone to summon them. In less than ten minutes Dr. Boyden Pillsbury and Dr. Lambert were on the scene, but life was extinct. Heart failure was the cause of death and the doctors said that death was instantaneous. She was a bright and lovable girl and enjoyed a large circle of friends. Besides her father and mother she is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

Shanley of 26 Phillips street. Mr. Shanley is one of Lowell's well known merchants and at the present time is conducting a fur store in the Colonial building.

The sudden death of Miss Shanley, who was a favorite with teachers and pupils alike, cast such gloom upon the school as to make it almost a house of mourning. It was but a few minutes before she was stricken down that her voice was heard in merry laughter.

Her class had just convened for recitation when suddenly a low moan was heard and Miss Shanley was seen to drop from her chair to the floor. It was at first thought that she had fainted, but no time was lost in summoning medical assistance. Principal Irish dispatched four messengers for doctors who he himself used the telephone to summon them. In less than ten minutes Dr. Boyden Pillsbury and Dr. Lambert were on the scene, but life was extinct. Heart failure was the cause of death and the doctors said that death was instantaneous. She was a bright and lovable girl and enjoyed a large circle of friends. Besides her father and mother she is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

15,000 PERSONS

Were Affected by Strikes in This State

Part 1 of the 38th annual report of the state bureau of statistics on labor, just issued, deals with the strikes and lockouts in this state during the past year.

Director Chas. F. Gettemy has made one important and comprehensive change over the previous documents, in changing the statistics to show the number of strikes successful or otherwise instead of giving figures to show the number of establishments in which they were successful or otherwise.

The report says there was a marked decrease in the number and magnitude of strikes throughout the state last year as compared with 1907, due in a large measure to the general depression in business.

During the year there were 98 disputes affecting 471 establishments, in which 7882 employees struck, throwing out of work 14,539 other employees and causing a loss in working time amounting to 322,754 days.

In comparison, in 1907 there were 236 disputes affecting 14 establishments, in which 16,479 persons struck, throwing out of work 11,186 other employees and resulting in the loss of 452,912 working days.

The large number of establishments affected by the comparatively small number of disputes last year was due, according to the report, to the strikes in the Quincy granite industry, in which 201 establishments were affected, and to the strike of the lathers at Lynn where 86 establishments were affected, and of the number thrown out of work as the result of strike action on the part of others, 11,018 were in the Lynn factories.

Of the 98 disputes last year 51 were cases in which less than 25 strikers were involved; there were 71 in which the number of strikers was under 51 and only eight in which the number of strikers exceeded 200. In two strikes the number of men involved was more than 1000 each.

Analyzing the strike figures still further the report shows that of the total number of disputes last year 64 were "attacks" or disputes begun in the first place by the employees and 34 were "defence" affairs or those begun in the first place by employers.

Although one would naturally expect to find that the largest number of strikes had been in those industries not the case, as Lynn had 14 and Boston but 12. In Brockton, Pittsfield and Springfield there were five strikes each.

In establishments affected by the strikes Quincy led with 201, Lynn 99, Springfield 45, Brockton 27, and Boston 22.

In the establishments in which strikes were ordered by the labor organizations the men were successful in 30.34 per cent. of the strikes, while in strikes which were not ordered by the labor organizations the percentage of success was only 12.50.

The most common method of settling strikes was by direct negotiations between employees and employer. In 337 of the establishments the strikes were settled in that way.

There were 28 establishments in which the disputes were settled by arbitration. There were 10 establishments in which the strikes were settled by the employees returning on the employers' terms and three in which the strikes were settled by the labor unions ordering the strikers back, under the old conditions.

FIRST INTIMATION OF SUGAR FRAUDS TEN YEARS AGO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—That the first intimation of frauds against the government in connection with the sugar importations was brought to the treasury department as far back as 1898 was declared yesterday by W. H. Theobald, a former confidential agent of the treasury department.

Mr. Theobald said that he was assigned to make an investigation on the sugar refinery docks in Brooklyn at that time, but was "called off" after three days' work and the investigation was not continued. He said that the sugar frauds were a small item in the amount of money the government lost annually from undervaluations of merchandise which would reach $20,000,000.

BURNING ECZEMA QUICKLY SPREAD

Started Like Ringworm on Hand—Hand Swelled and Then Humor Spread to Arms, Legs and Face—It Was Something Terrible.

PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED: CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for a very bad case of eczema with complete success. About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the shape of a large pinhead on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm, and made very light of it. He gave me a wash and told me to apply it before going to bed and all would be over in the morning. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I poulticed it. When the doctor came to his office, he showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that he had never experienced such a case in his practice and said it was eczema. I bought a bottle of Cuticura and used it as directed. The disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. After I had tried this doctor, as I thought, long enough, I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was a bad case of eczema and that it would take quite a while to cure it. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further."

"I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled with another attack since. I still use the Cuticura Ointment in my family as it is one of the best remedies to heal a sore or either injury rapidly. I can freely and truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are the best so far as my experience went with them and I am still recommending them, feeling sure I am not making a mistake. C. Durkhardt, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Form of Infant, Children and Adults requires of Cuticura Soap (25c) to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c) to heal the skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c) or in the form of Cuticura Tablets (25c per box of 50) to purify the blood. Sold everywhere. After using the Soap, Ointment, and Tablets, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases, 10c.

Breach of Promise is Alleged

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Maj. Albert L. Wyman of the quartermaster's department of the Second brigade, M. V. M., a druggist at 79 Berkeley street, was named as the defendant in a suit for breach of promise filed in behalf of Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, a nurse, in the superior court yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff asks $10,000, and her attorney, W. R. Scherton, declares that there are other suits to follow.

Miss Sullivan is a pretty young woman. She used to live on Gray street, but recently she moved, and her lawyer will not disclose her new address. He says he does not want reporters calling on her. She filed yesterday a returnable Dec. 1 and on that date the attorney will file his declaration.

ALSO CLAIM

AFTER 35 YEARS ASSUMED CRITICAL STAGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Alsop claim of more than $1,000,000 against Chile, which has been pending for upwards of 35 years, has assumed a critical stage. Intimation has been given to the Chilean minister in Washington that unless a final settlement is made within the next few days or the claim is referred to The Hague for trial on its merits the American legation in Chile will be closed. No ultimatum has been given to Chile, but the withdrawal of diplomatic reports will be in the way of a forcible protest against the delays which have characterized the policy of the Chilean government in dealing with the Alsop claim.

WILLIAM LAFFAN

Editor of New York Sun
is Dead

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—William Laffan, successor of the late Charles A. Dana in the management of the New York Sun and publisher of that newspaper for the last 25 years, died early today at his home in Lawrence, Louis Island, following an operation for appendicitis performed on Monday.

Mr. Laffan was born in Dublin, Ireland, in January, 1843, and after completing his studies in Dublin university came to this country where he early engaged in newspaper work. In 1870 he was made managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, but after two years removed to Baltimore to become editor and half owner of the Daily Bulletin, subsequently acquiring full ownership of that paper as well as the Sunday Bulletin. While in Baltimore he married the daughter of Judge Daniel Ralston of Washington, D. C. Mr. Laffan was recognized as an authority on wood engraving and oriental porcelain. In 1875 he directed the work of cataloguing the Chinese porcelain in the collection of J. P. Morgan, whose adviser he was in art matters, and this he followed a year later with a catalogue of the Chinese porcelain in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, which elected him a trustee.

His first connection with The Sun dates back to 1877, when he was engaged to write art criticisms for that newspaper.

In addition to his activities on The Sun, Mr. Laffan was art editor and London agent for the publishing house of Harper & Bros. from 1881 to 1883. In 1884 he was elected publisher of The Sun and three years later was made a trustee of that publication. Mr. Laffan founded the Evening Sun. In 1900 he purchased the interests of the estate of Chas. A. Dana in The Sun Printing & Publishing Assn., and became president of the association.

His letter reads as follows:

W. A. Varney, 25 Hamilton avenue, Lynn, Mass.:

Dear Sir—Like many others I believed there was no cure for rheumatism until I tried VAR-NE-SIS and found it was all you recommended it to be.

For several years I suffered from inflammatory rheumatism. Sometimes I was obliged to go on crutches, my feet being so badly swollen I simply could not get my shoes on.

No one can realize the nights of suffering that I endured.

I tried various remedies, and while some helped me temporarily, yet, sooner or later, the dread disease made its appearance in my hands, feet, knees or shoulders.

I had made up my mind that all I could ever look forward to was temporary relief. I never expected to find a permanent cure.

When I began to use VAR-NE-SIS my right hand was so swollen and painful that I had to carry it in a sling, and both my feet were swollen to twice their normal size.

After taking your wonderful remedy I feel safe in saying I am entirely cured of rheumatism.

I recommend VAR-NE-SIS to all sufferers of rheumatism.

I will be glad to tell anyone whom you may send me more about my case.

Gratefully yours,

(Signed)

ALL HELD RALLIES

Cold Had No Terror for Candidates

It wasn't much of a night for outdoor campaigning last night, yet some of the democratic candidates for mayor and their friends braved the cold and held outdoor rallies with no little enthusiasm.

Maloney in Centralville

William E. Maloney devoted his time to the voters of wards one and six in Centralville last evening and spoke before two large crowds at the corner of Bridge and West Third streets and at Lakeview avenue and Aiken street. Mr. Maloney made a most favorable impression upon his hearers and his remarks were frequently interrupted by applause. He likened the city unto a great corporation doing business of vast importance and he expressed the belief that every public official upon taking office should pledge himself to conduct the city's affairs as carefully and as faithfully as he would his own private business. Furthermore, he stated that a big corporation when engaging a manager or an official went out and engaged the man best fitted for the position, whether he had resided any great length of time in the city wherein the corporation does business, or not. He had not been a resident of Lowell as long as some of the candidates but he would ask the voters to consider his record wherever he has been. He then took up the issues of the campaign and after stating how he stood on the different important matters he concluded with a few remarks on the duty of the democratic voter in this campaign to work for the success of the whole ticket, regardless of the result of the caucuses. The man nominated for mayor he said, whether he be Maloney or anyone else, should receive the united support of the entire party.

Mr. Maloney addressed a large gathering at the Middlesex mills this noon, and he spoke on the character of the tenement property in Lowell, the need of more playgrounds, and public baths.

O'Donnell in Centralville

James E. O'Donnell addressed a large and enthusiastic gathering at Odd Fellows hall last evening. He set forth his record in the legislature showing where he not only voted for but spoke for and advocated in committee many important labor measures. He also spoke for party harmony after the caucuses and stated that he would loyally support the entire democratic ticket, no matter who might be nominated. At the conclusion of the rally Mr. O'Donnell attended the class initiation of the Eagles, of which organization he is a popular member.

Meehan in Ward Four

John F. Meehan had his night in ward four last evening, addressing a large and friendly gathering. Mr. Meehan referred to his record in the legislature and the official endorsement of it by organized labor, and then spoke earnestly for party harmony. Before the meeting in the schoolhouse Mr. Meehan addressed a gathering at the corner of Charles and Gorham streets.

Crowley in Ward Two

Major Crowley held an enthusiastic rally in ward two last evening, using a vacant store at the corner of Adams and Cross streets, which was crowded to the doors. Mr. Crowley discussed the issues of the campaign at length with a special reference to the charity board, and that the audience was thoroughly in sympathy with his attitude with respect to that august body was evidenced by the great applause given him.

Daly in Belviders

John W. Daly held his rally in the High street engine house last evening, and was greatly encouraged by the reception given him. Mr. Daly spoke on the city charter, the charity board and other issues of vital importance to the city at large. He made a plea for party harmony as well and urged his hearers to vote the straight ticket from top to bottom, regardless of whether their man won at the polls.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John E. Whitney and Miss Mary T. Donoghue were united in marriage at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church, Wednesday night, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. Curtin. The best man was Mr. Arthur Whitney, brother of the groom, and the bride was attended by Miss Bertha Barrett. A wedding supper was served

THE AXLE BROKE

An inward bound car on the Woburn and Boston line of the Boston & Northern left the rails at Dyer's Hill in Billerica about eight o'clock last night and crashed into a telegraph pole. The accident was due to the breaking of the rear axle.

The car was bowling along at a fair rate of speed when, without any warning, it jumped the track and struck the pole. The passengers were frightened for the moment, but soon regained their composure when it was discovered that there were no serious injuries.

The car was in charge of Motor-man Frederick Crowley, and Conductor William McKenzie. Upon arrival in this city, one woman, who received a bruise on her arm, was treated by a local physician and sent to her home. The accident delayed traffic for about an hour.

SPEAKER CANNON

Defends the Rules of the House

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, answered his critics with a defense of the present rules of the house and denied that the speaker was a czar. Mr. Cannon paid his respects to Senator A. B. Cummings of Iowa, and Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri, the leader of the minority in the house.

President Taft was praised for his defense of the new tariff law in his speech at Winona, Minn., during his recent trip across the country.

According to Mr. Cannon, Senator Cummings complained that no information was placed before congress during the recent tariff revision. Mr. Cannon remarked that there were carloads of information for any who wanted to make use of it, and added:

"There has been no way discovered by which information can be put in a man's skull without any industry on his part."

In denial of the charges that he read other Senator Robert La Follette of Wisconsin or Senator Cummings out of the republican party, was entered by Mr. Cannon.

"What I did say," said Mr. Cannon, "was that if Cummings or La Follette were republicans, then I was not."

In speaking of Champ Clark, Mr. Cannon said:

"We all like Champ Clark, but what he does not know about all valorem duties, schedules and parliamentary law would make a large library; but he is an expert on Chautauques."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

But four more performances remain to be given by Helen Grayce and her admirable company at the Opera House. Slowly but surely this worthy organization has been attracting the attention that it deserves and it is expected that the farewell appearances will be greeted by a number of overflowing houses. The Pit, this evening, has been attracting special attention as this famous play based on speculation is a companion to "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Man of the Hour." It tells an up-to-date story in a way that simply compels the attention as the scenes, located on the floor of the Chicago stock exchange in which a mob of fifty people are used, are said to be the most intense found in any modern drama. Tomorrow afternoon that whimsically mythical play, "The House of a Thousand Candles" will be given with the same care to detail that characterized its presentation Tuesday evening. The engagement closes tomorrow night with "In the Bishop's Carriage," a dramatization of the novel of the same name that tells the story of Nance O'Brien, who styles herself Nan, the Nipper, and who is a sneak thief. Her adventures in the underworld and her final success on the vaudeville stage are most entertaining.

"The Devil" was presented in a masterful manner last evening. Miss Grayce, Mr. Barker and Mr. Ambrose were all most convincing.

"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE."

Monday evening "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be presented at the Lowell Opera House. Frederick W. Pierce will be seen in the difficult role. The Salem News says a splendid room audience at the Empire witnessed the performance of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and it was presented in a manner that delighted the audience. The play gives Mr. Pierce, a chance to show his power as an actor, and it was surely improved by him to the utmost. He deserves a great deal of praise for his work. It was necessary for him to respond to curtain calls at the end of each act. Mr. Pierce is supported by Miss Marie Rostell and a carefully selected company.

"THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER."

A drama of heart interest called "The Convict's Daughter" will be the attraction at the Opera House, next Tuesday evening, Nov. 23. "The Convict's Daughter" has been played in nearly every city in the United States and Canada with success, both financially and artistically and its present New England tour has brought forth many words of praise. The company selected for the numerous characters is a good one and each player is cast for a role pleasing to his ability. The settings are all in keeping with the atmosphere of the story and add greatly to the interest of the play. The engagement here will be at popular prices.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

"The Old Homestead," that masterpiece of New England rusticity transplanted to the stage by Dorman Thompson, has not yet lost its charm, though the present is the twenty-fourth season of the old play. This quaint and entertaining glimpse of New England farm life still has a strong hold upon the public. It is a clean, wholesome and pure drama. Out that mother and her boys to see and find a good lesson in the presented show. It may not rank very high as literature, but it touches the true human chord. We all know about "The Old Homestead" just as we know about "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and it is pleasant to note that it loses none of its interest and pleasing quality by repetition. "The Old Homestead" comes to the Opera House Wednesday, November 24, matinee and night. Seats for the engagement go on sale tomorrow morning.

"EAST LYNNE."

A noteworthy performance of everybody's favorite drama, "East Lynne" will be given at the Opera House Thursday, November 25, by Joseph King's New York company. The production will be given under the personal supervision of Mr. Joseph King, a stage director of reputation and ability, and a highly artistic merit—our performance is assured.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

From the position of dough-mixer in a hotel kitchen to that of a headliner in vaudeville, is the road traveled by Luigi Marabini, the rapid fire Italian ice sculptor, who is one of the features at Hathaway's theatre this week. Marabini first took up his work of modelling in Vienna, where he became financially embarrassed. He first modelled out of dough, then was urged to make statuary out of confections. Later, while working in a big London hotel he conceived the idea of ice carving, the models to be used on the tables during special occasions. His first work was "Ede and the Swan." Two years ago he came to America, and has made a decided hit with his work since that time.

The remainder of the bill is good. It includes: James R. McCann, & Company in "Uncle Charles of Charleston," McDevitt & Keller, eccentric dancers; Sam Doty, singing comedian; Mabelle Adams, Gypsy violinist; Farrell-Taylor trio, in whimsicalities; Morgan & Chesler, in "The Arrival of Dr. Cook," and the Hathawaycope.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats for women at the matinee.

THEATRE VOYONS

There are two ten strikes on the bill at the Theatre Voyons today. The Pathe production of "Rigoletto," Verdi's great opera is winning approval at every showing and it deserves every bit of it.

The second big hit is that good old song, "Eileen Alannah" sung by Mr. and Mrs. Bales. The singer's voices, a beautiful deep alto of great range and a clear pleasing tenor, blend well together.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

After dinner drop into the Academy and spend a pleasant afternoon. The entire bill is changed every Monday and Thursday, thus giving the patrons of the theatre plenty of good variety. If you witness one performance at the Academy you will become a regular patron, one would hardly imagine that such a show as given here could be presented on a paying basis at a cost of admission of only five cents. But the Academy possesses the advantage of being the latest picture theatre in Lowell and hence can seat the largest audience comfortably.

STAR THEATRE

The smallest and funniest acrobats on the American stage, the Turner Brothers, and Gertrude Lamont in her singing and whistling specialty are extraordinary vaudeville attractions at the Star theatre. New pictures were shown today. The admission of five cents allows a seat.

Associate hall, tonight checking free, Fairmount.

PROF. LOWELL

ASKED FOR RECORDS OF OBSERVATORY'S WORK

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Nov. 19.—Dr. Percy Lowell, director of Lowell observatory has been asked by the German national museum where all the fundamental discoveries in science are being preserved, for records of the observatory's work to be placed in permanent archives and exhibits of that institution. The material wanted comprises a series of photographs of Mars and Jupiter, spectra of Mars showing water vapor and comparison spectra, spectra of other planets and the characteristic spectra exhibited at Dresden last summer by Siriper.

The honor thus conferred is considered one of the greatest, says Dr. Lowell, and the first ever conferred on an American observatory.

Grows Hair
PARISIAN SAGE
Cures Dandruff.
AN ARMY OF CLEAN HEADS

THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS DANDRUFF DIRTY A YEAR AGO NOW HAVE SNOW WHITE SCALPS

In America the dandruff germ must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun, and already thousands of intelligent Americans have permanently rid themselves of this filthiness.

To-day it is no more necessary for a man to have dandruff in his hair than to have tartar on his teeth.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indelible dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And it can be destroyed, and millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed, thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parisian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or your money back.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye; it will not color the hair, but it will prevent it from turning gray, and put new life and beauty into it. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful.

SIMPLE FORMULA FOR HAIR TROUBLES

There are no better things known for treating the hair and scalp than the following: Refined soap, white of egg, glycerine, Cocchi coconut oil and salicylic acid. The refined soap is used to cleanse the hair and scalp of dirt and impurities generally. The cocchi coconut oil helps to make a profuse lather, and gives a beautiful glossy gloss to the hair. The white of egg loosens the dandruff and scales on the scalp, and is one of the finest things known for this purpose. Glycerine is a valuable thing in all skin troubles. It softens, soothes and heals the scalp, and its emollient properties are known to everybody. Salicylic acid is a destroyer of germs and bacteria. It is also one of the standard antiseptics, and prevents the disagreeable odors that are often found on the head and hair. Instead of going to the trouble and expense of securing these ingredients and mixing them yourself, buy Birt's Head Wash. The new scientific preparation, which is made exactly according to the foregoing formula, Birt's Head Wash keeps the pores of the scalp, and is one of the finest cure proper nourishment. Ask your doctor about it. Price 50c a jar, at all druggists.

SHOCK TOO GREAT

Sick Man Died After Meeting His Brother

PITTSBURG, Nov. 18.—After being lost to his family for ten years, the shock of meeting his brother proved too much for Stephen Basset, whose body was sent to New Rochelle, N. Y., early today. While chatting to W. J. Basset, a New York travelling man, an official of the Pressed Steel Car Co. of McKees Rocks, near here, said: "We have an employee of your name in bad shape from pneumonia at a hospital here."

they visit the hospital, mentioning that he had a brother who had been missing for ten years.

Going to the ward where the patient lay the New York man discovered his long lost brother. The meeting was pathetic, but proved too much for the sick man, who died in a few hours.

It is said the dead man, who was 35 years of age, was the son of rich parents.

$100,000 OFFER

FOR THE JEFFRIES-JOHNSON BOUT MADE

VANCOUVER, Nov. 18.—P. L. Hancock, a local fight promoter, yesterday wired Sam Berger, manager of Jim Jeffries, offering a purse of $100,000 to hold the fight at Minora park on Lulu island eight miles from Vancouver.

COST OF LIVING

Has Increased Greatly in Austria

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The cost of living recently has grown so great in Austria, according to a report made today to the department of commerce and labor, by Consul Brittain, of Prague, that the government of that country has taken the matter in hand and will if possible check the further advance of prices.

Among other concessions the people of Austria desire that the cattle and meat business of Vienna be taken over by a newly proposed Agrarian bank. Another demand is the establishment of a central office for the utilization of cattle products with branches in Austria and foreign countries to be supported by the proposed bank. To carry on this project will require about $1,000,000.

FRENCH COURTS

Make a Change in Trial Methods

PARIS, Nov. 18.—For the first time in a French assize court a trial was conducted today after the Anglo-Saxon fashion. This was in fulfillment of the wish of Minister of Justice Barthou that certain reforms be instituted, including the doing away of the judge's interrogation of the prisoner.

Today the public prosecutor conducted the examination of witnesses as is the practice in the courts of the United States and at the conclusion of this examination the prosecutor asked for the discharge of the accused on the ground that the evidence developed was insufficient.

Deputy Magistrate introduced in the chamber of deputies a bill providing that witnesses in court trials may have a lawyer present when they are examined.

ELOPING PAIR

Were Detained at Ellis Island

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A young pair who eloped in Paris were arrivals yesterday by the Gasconne, and were taken to Ellis island because they were not married. The young man was Paul Herr, 20 years old; the young woman, Juliette Berthou, 18 years old. Herr is an engraver of jewelry, and expects to go into business here. Juliette is a milliner.

Paul's parents are both dead, but Juliette's father is still living and, to the pain of both, objected to Paul. Neither was of age, and under the circumstances it was impossible for them to marry in France. They determined to fly to America, where Paul was sure he could make his fortune. They flew to the Gasconne, thinking they could be married by the captain after the vessel got to sea.

They found Capt. Dumont not disposed to perform the ceremony. His ship was in French territory, he explained, and why should he marry them if they were not eligible to be married ashore? So when the liner arrived, they found the inspectors waiting, and more was in store.

So favorably did young Herr impress the inspectors that they thought some arrangement would be made with the French consul's office by which the young pair might be allowed to land.

U. S. GOVERNMENT FRICK MAY DIE

To Recognize the Belligerents in Nicaragua Physicians Say That His Injuries May be Fatal

The State Department Refuses to Discuss the Matter—Nicaraguan Minister Received the State Dept's. Notice Today—No News Yet From Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Indications seem clearly to point to a recognition by the United States government of the belligerent status of the revolutionary government in Nicaragua under Gen. Estrada and it is not improbable that a public declaration to that effect will be made in the near future. As hitherto the state department officials decline to discuss even the probability of such a course but from all the surrounding circumstances of the case such action undoubtedly would be justified, it is said.

At this moment the insurgent forces are in practical control of at least one-half of the whole Nicaraguan territory and have possession of the entire Atlantic coast line except Greytown and the blockade of that port completes the whole line.

The state department has heard nothing from any Nicaraguan quarter since yesterday. The warships which have been dispatched to Nicaragua ports are expected to arrive at their destination sometime today and it is not improbable that wireless reports may be received before the close of the day. Their presence in the Nicaraguan ports will at least have the value of indicating that the United States has a very great interest in the contest now being waged in that country.

Dr. Hezera, the Nicaraguan minister received this morning the state department's note demanding an explanation from the Zelayan government of the execution of Cannon and Linas and a reply thereto is now being prepared. It was admitted at the legation that "a report of the incident" had been received from Zelaya. It is said that the revolutionists are conducting their movements against the Zelayan army in strictly military fashion in contrast of the methods of Zelaya, who is declared to have violated many of the established rules of civilized warfare.

Only in recent times with the development of the system of neutrality has the subject of recognition of belligerency acquired scientific precision and consistency. The mere recognition of the existence of a condition of hostilities or insurgency does not imply the recognition of a legal state of war, the parties, which are to be treated as belligerents. Belligerency is recognized by the nations of the world where a struggle has attained a certain magnitude and affects the interests of the recognizing power. The recognition of belligerency involves the right of blockade visitation, search and seizure of contraband articles on the high seas and abandonment of claims for reparation on account of damages suffered by other citizens from the presence of warfare. It does not, however, confer on the community recognized all the rights of an independent state but it grants to its government and subjects the rights and imposes upon them the obligations of an independent state in all matters relating to the war.

The reasons which require and justify this step by the government of another country are that its own rights and interests are so far affected as to require a definition of its own relations to the parties. Then a parent government is seeking to subdue an insurrection and the insurgents proclaim a political nationality and belligerent rights which the parent government does not concede, as in the present situation recognition by a foreign state of such belligerent rights is not justified by necessity is regarded in international law as a gratuitous demonstration of moral support of the rebellion and a censure upon the parent government.

The situation of the foreign state with reference to the contest and the condition of affairs between the contending parties may be such as to justify this act.

73 EMPLOYEES

Removed From the Customs Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Collector of the Port William Loeb, Jr., today announced the removal from the customs service of 73 employees and attaches of the weighing and other divisions of the custom service here. Among those dismissed are James F. Vail, formerly deputy surveyor of the weighing division; George E. Bedell, an inspector formerly chief clerk of the weighing division; J. P. Hyland and Joseph O'Carroll, ex-foreman of weighing.

Besides those enumerated the removals include ten assistant weighers, three inspectors, formerly assistant weighers, one inspector, formerly an assistant gauger and one assistant detector. In addition the collector states that since March 9th last, the day he took office, he had removed from the service for irregularities in the weighing department 18 other officials six of whom are now under indictment. In other branches of the service he has removed for cause thirty officials making the total number of removals from the service since March 9, seventy-three.

LIMA, O., Nov. 19.—Physicians gave up hope for William Frick of Bellefontaine, member of the wealthy Frick family, following the amputation of both his legs last night, but he rallied and today had a slight chance to recover. The woman who fell with him from a third story window, Wednesday, and who gave her name as Miss Adams of Toledo, today admitted that she is married and that her husband lives in eastern Ohio. She is held on the charge of disorderly conduct. She has developed symptoms of internal injuries.

Frick made his will last night, bequeathing his property to his eldest daughter.

Deputy Sheriff Vail, Collector Loeb announced that the office of deputy collector, which Mr. Vail had occupied, has been abolished. Of Mr. Vail's removal, he says:

"The collector has no proof nor have Special Assistant Attorneys General Smith or Stinson proof of any corruption on his part, but he was in charge of the weighing division during the time that the extensive underweighing frauds were perpetrated and the fact that such conditions could exist in his department warrants his separation from the service on the grounds of negligence and inefficiency."

Collector Loeb in making today's announcement added significantly: "The collector is continuing his investigation."

Finest Display of Premiums Ever Seen

in Lowell--All FREE for "S. & H."

Green Trading Stamps

When the legislature, a number of years ago, passed that law making it impossible for merchants to give trading stamps in Massachusetts, we advised you to send your S. & H. stamps to Providence for redemption.

Many took advantage of our suggestion. Others, we find, did not. For their benefit we announce any of the old series of S. & H. Green Trading Stamps which were regularly collected by the holder, can now be brought to our Premium Parlor and exchanged for S. & H. Stamps of the new series.

NOW IT IS YOUR TURN

The law prohibiting merchants giving you an inducement for your cash trade is unconstitutional. Today you can buy everything you use or wear from merchants who will sell you better goods for less money than their competitors and will also liberally reward your patronage.

The method they use is "Premiums," not of the ordinary sort, but the finest assortment of high class merchandise procurable.

In the Premium Parlor, which we have just opened at 35 John St., these Premiums (merchandise) are on exhibition. All you have to do to acquire anything or everything there, is to obtain Trading Stamps—the famous S. & H. Green Trading Stamps—the only money we accept.

If you obtain at least one "S. & H." Stamp with each ten cents you spend, you can annually fill many books with them.

Come tomorrow—come frequently—and see how many beautiful things you can acquire each year if you trade with merchants who give "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps, and demand them each time you make a purchase.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Has Refused to Recognize the New Nicaraguan Minister

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—An announcement that the United States government is tired of the high handed actions of the small Central American republics practically was contained in a despatch sent late yesterday to the Bluefields Steamship Co., which sought the protection of the state department from interference by the insurgents now operating against President Zelaya. An hour later a peremptory note, couched in diplomatic language, but none the less direct, was delivered to Senor Felipe Rodriguez, charge d'affaires of the Nicaraguan legation, demanding a full and complete explanation of the execution of the two Americans, Leonard Grace and Leroy Cannon, who were executed by order of Zelaya when they were found in the insurgent army.

Pending a satisfactory explanation of the occurrence, President Taft has refused to recognize Isidoro Haza, the new Nicaraguan minister. Mr. Taft is thoroughly aroused by the actions of the Zelayan government, and is determined to make the lives of American citizens much safer and considerably more respected in Central America than they have been hitherto.

The attitude of the government was shown late yesterday when the state department telegraphed to the Bluefields Steamship Co., the headquarters of which is in New Orleans. The company's regular steamer was about to set sail for Bluefields, Nicaragua, with a miscellaneous cargo, including a number of rifles and other munitions of war. The corporation was warned by agents of the Nicaraguan insurrectionary forces that the vessel would be liable to seizure and the steamship management promptly called on the state department to announce the protection this government would give in such a case.

The state department promptly replied. The answer was the result of a conference between the president and Secretary of State Knox, and carried full weight. It gave the steamship company no encouragement and practically recognized the revolutionary forces operating against the Zelayan administration, a proceeding for which there is probably no parallel in the records of this government.

GIVEN A SCARE ANNUAL BANQUET

Tarantula Sent to Dead Letter Office

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The dead letter office of the postoffice department belied its name yesterday when a tarantula threw the clerks into a frenzy which for a moment threatened to become a stampede.

J. A. Davis, an experienced clerk, tore the cover from a mysterious looking package addressed to Huggero Verity, Florence, Italy, and found a box pierced with small holes. He shook it to ascertain whether or not it contained an infernal machine and the lid came off.

In a second a big tarantula was roosting on his shoulder. He knocked it to the floor, and at the sight women clerks climbed on desks and fell over one another to escape the spider. Never, said a veteran employee of the dead letter office, were so many silk stockings seen in the office before.

The tarantula was found in a pile of mail sacks and was killed.

At the meeting of the banquet committee held last evening many important plans were formulated to make the coming banquet and reunion on Dec. 29 a big success. Very good reports were received from the different sub-committees and each showed progress.

The committee on speakers has in view several prominent after dinner speakers and is also endeavoring to have one of the early Xaverian Brothers present to deliver an address. It was decided to issue the invitations and tickets at once and members are urged to procure their tickets from Treas. Michael E. Adams at their earliest convenience. The committee extends an invitation to every former attendant of the school, whether a graduate or not, to attend this grand banquet and reunion and promises an evening of genuine enjoyment.

The committee adjourned to meet again Thursday, Dec. 2.

Shilohites Caught in a Furious Gale

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The schooner yacht Coronet, bearing some forty Shilohites, bound for the Shiloh colony in Palestine, was driven into port here yesterday by a furious gale encountered at the start of the trip for the Mediterranean. The yacht was anchored off Rowe's wharf, but the passengers, many of whom could be heard crying, refused, evidently under orders, to disclose any information concerning the craft or its mission.

The Coronet is the Brooklyn built yacht which won a notable ocean race for a big purse with the yacht Dauntless several years ago.

SIX EXPERT CUE WIELDERS WHO ARE ENTERED IN NEW YORK TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Interest in billiards and kindred table games ought to take on a great boom this season from the start that has been made by the room keepers of New York and neighboring cities in the preliminary organization of the National Room Keepers' association, that has for its object the promotion and encouragement of billiard games, both of amateurs and professionals, held in America. The necessity for an organization of this kind has been felt for years, and the important changes taking place in the promotion of big tournaments are the most radical in the history of billiards. Many matches are scheduled to be held, several inter-city tournaments are being planned, and one big professional tournament to decide the 18.2 ball line championship is to be held in New York from Nov. 22 to Nov. 29. Six of the most expert wielders of the cue are entered in the competition. The players are George Slosson of New York, Calvin Demarest of Chicago, George Sutton of Chicago, Harry P. Cline of Philadelphia, Al Cutler of Boston and Firmin Cassinogel of Paris. The tournament promises to be the most striking battle in the history of the sport. Five American players will be opposed by the best professional player in France, and $5000, with the gate receipts, will be divided into 40, 20, 20 and 10 per cent. Willie Hoppe has announced that he will play the winner for a side bet of $10,000.

SAWYER BEATEN

Terry Martin Given the Decision

LAWRENCE, Nov. 19.—A great outpouring of members witnessed the bouts at the Unity cycle and athletic club last night the principal event being 12 rounds between Tom Sawyer of Rockland and Terry Martin of Philadelphia. The giving of the decision to Martin was hissed for some time after the contest.

Sawyer seemed to win the crowd by his style of fighting and the worst he should have received was thought to be a draw. Martin did the cleaner work at long distance, but Sawyer more than offset this by his fast work to the body in the clinches.

The first six rounds were very even, both punching hard and cleanly. Martin had the seventh by a good margin and the eighth was a tossup. In the ninth Sawyer forged ahead and had the round by a good shade. The 10th and 11th and 12th were even, with both men strong at the finish and fighting furiously.

Sawyer showed a little bruise on the nose, which bled freely, while Martin showed no marks of punishment.

Young Gallagher and Young Ryan went to a six-round draw in the preliminaries. Young Delmont stopped Young Mulvey in the third round and WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 19.—That Count Heinrich Bendenbender, a member of an old Bavarian family has been working here since last spring as private secretary to A. H. Webb, a division superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railroad, has just come to light. To his associates the count has been known simply as Henry Bendenbender. Mr. Webb himself was ignorant of his secretary's identity until a few days ago.

LAWYER PATRICK

Has Secured Writ for New Hearing

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—In spite of the many defeats he has met in the courts in efforts to regain his liberty, the persistence and legal acumen of Albert T. Patrick, who is serving a life sentence in Sing Sing for the murder of William Marsh Rice, in 1900, succeeded in obtaining another writ of habeas corpus yesterday through his counsel, Wm. L. McDevitt, from Presiding Judge Hirschberg of the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn.

The writ is returnable Nov. 29 and directs Warden Frost of the state prison to produce the petitioner in court at the time.

Patrick argued his own case before the same court a few months ago and a decision was rendered against him.

EVANGELIST STAIR

SPOKE ON "THE GREAT DISCOVERY"

"The Great Discovery" was Evangelist Stair's subject at the revival services in Calvary Baptist church last night. A pleasant feature of the service was the presence of thirty or more persons from Lynn, friends of Mr. Reynolds, the soloist, who is being heard to good advantage at these revival meetings. During the Chapman-Alexander evangelistic campaign in Boston and vicinity Mr. Reynolds attracted a chorus in Lynn and it was a delegation from this chorus that came to Lowell last night to co-operate in the revival service at Calvary Baptist church, and they sang several selections.

MRS. STETSON DROPPED

Christian Science Directors Find Charges True

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The name of Mrs. Augusta Stetson was yesterday dropped from the rolls of the Christian Science church by order of the directors. It was announced that the directors had found the charges that Mrs. Stetson was working against the interests of the church and contrary to the teachings and practices of the Christian Science to be proved and true.

The decision of the board of directors was issued about 34 hours after the conclusion of a three days' conference with Mrs. Stetson at the mother church in this city. The decision was as follows:

"A complaint against Mrs. Augusta Stetson of New York was filed with the board of directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston on November 6th. She was immediately furnished with a copy of it and a copy of the following orders. It was ordered by said board that the evidence in support or defense of the complaint should be presented in the form of affidavits or documents except that any evidence given or statement made by the complainant or the accused should be given or made orally and in the presence of the directors; that the accused should have the right to the assistance of counsel; and that the case should be heard commencing on Nov. 15th, 1909 at 9 o'clock a. m.

"The hearing commenced at that time and was concluded on Nov. 17 at 4 p. m. Mrs. Stetson was present during the trial with her counsel, Mr. Hayne Davis. The evidence in support of the complaint consisted of the affidavits of 27 persons, five letters written by Mrs. Stetson to her students and a composite letter written by some of her students and approved by her. The evidence in defense of the complaint consisted of one affidavit, two letters and Mrs. Stetson's personal testimony and statements.

"After considering the evidence and Mrs. Stetson's statements made in the directors it was their unanimous conclusion that the charges against her had been proved and were true. Mrs. Stetson's name was then dropped from the roll of membership of said church.

"The offenses proved against Mrs. Stetson were of two kinds.

"1.—Working against the interests of members of the church who are not her followers and against the interest of this church.

"2.—Persisting in teachings and practices which are contrary to Christian Science."

The action of the directors of the mother church is the most drastic in the history of Christian Science. Mrs. Stetson is pastor emerita of the first church of Christ, Scientist, of New York where she has a large following.

Two months ago Mrs. Stetson's record as a healer together with those of her students who are also healers was removed from one of the official journals of the faith.

Mrs. Stetson's followers rallied to her support and an investigation was held by a special committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of New York where she had formerly held the position of first reader. This investigation resulted in her excommunication and was followed by a meeting of the members of the church at which a majority of those present upheld the decision. A movement was begun to dismiss the present first reader, Virgil F. Strickler. A letter from Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, the originator and leader of Christian Science, was read at a meeting called for last Monday at which action was expected against Mr. Strickler and without a vote on the question the meeting adjourned. This action was regarded as upholding the first reader and as adverse to Mrs. Stetson. In the meantime Mrs. Stetson obeyed the summons of the board of directors of the mother church and appeared before them in this city.

Mrs. Stetson returned to New York last night and today the decision of the directors was announced.

BLAMES THE LAW

Maine's Liquor Code is Denounced

BIDDEFORD, Me., Nov. 19.—Chief of Police Charles B. Harmon surprised the court attendants yesterday by a vigorous denunciation of the prohibitory law. The occasion arose in the trial of James Kearns, an expressman, charged with the sale of a cheap sort of whiskey known locally as the "Inflammable brand," to the drinking of which is attributed the death of ex-Policeman Hayes and of Alexander Normandin on Oct. 2. Kearns was discharged.

Chief Harmon declared that the Maine prohibitory law had made more perjurers than all the other laws on the statutes combined among the hundreds arrested for violation of the law. He denounced the law as being wrong in principle and in its working and he unhesitatingly declared it as his belief that a man arrested for violating the prohibitory law was justified in going into court and perjuring himself in order to clear himself.

BUNTING CRICKET NOTES

From a playing standpoint, last season was one of the worst experienced in the history of the club. The annual meeting elected a strong and, best of all, a working committee which is now getting busy in the club's interest. It is its ambition to place a first class team in the field next season. The club will offer the same inducements to players as other clubs are doing in the league.

Under the management of William Flynn, the football team has made great progress. Although the Buntings disappointed the 500 spectators by failing to defeat the Northerns, it should be remembered that they were playing against a side which was regarded as vastly superior.

Another big crowd is expected to be present to see the Light Blues from Manchester at the Buntings grounds on Saturday afternoon.

Hurry Kny, a popular steward of the club, has been engaged for the winter season and the management has voted to keep the cosy club house open all the year round. Next week being Thanksgiving week there will be something doing every night.

WANTS DIVORCE

Because Husband Kissed Her too Much

TRENTON, Neb., Nov. 19.—Because, she says, John R. McGrew exceeded the kissing limit, Mrs. Henrietta McGrew has sued him for divorce. She alleges that he has insisted on kissing her to a point of cruelty. Mrs. McGrew alleges that she and John were married more than a year ago, and for six months she stood the kissing without a murmur, supposing that in time his osculatory fever would subside. But instead the kisses have become more frequent.

The McGrews occupy a farm, where John is trying to cultivate 100 acres. Because of his great desire to kiss, his wife alleges that he has let his crop go to ruin, and that this year they will not raise enough to "feed a chicken."

The first thing in the morning, she avers, John insists upon not only one, but several dozen kisses. Then he starts out to do the work about the barn, returning when she is in the midst of preparing the breakfast. Entering the house, before he sets down the pails of milk, he declares that he must have a few more kisses. This operation is repeated several times before they sit down to the morning meal.

After breakfast John takes a few more rounds at kissing, and then starts for the field. Along about 10 o'clock he returns to the house and there is another session of kissing, after which work in the field is resumed. In the afternoon, Mrs. McGrew declares, he returns to the house once or twice, and no matter who may be there insists his kisses.

She relates that they attended a country dance. After a couple of sets had been danced, and while everybody was standing around, "John came up," she recites in her petition, "to where I was standing, talking with a couple of women, threw his arms about me, and kissed me at least 50 times. People laughed and made fun of both my husband and myself, humiliating me in a most shocking manner."

WAITS FOR PLANS

American Hide and Leather Company

HAS NOT SUBMITTED PLANS FOR BEAM HOUSE

Board of Health is Waiting—Special Meeting of Both Branches of the City Council This Evening—Other Items of Interest From City Hall

The board of health will meet in regular session this afternoon and will give hearings on several matters, including petitions for stable locations. The American Hide and Leather company has not yet presented its plans for a new and odorless beam house. It is barely possible that the plans will be presented at the meeting this afternoon though no notice to that effect has been given by the company.

Little Romances

The sequel to courtships that were begun in the Azores and in Greece is told in the book of marriage intentions in the city clerk's office. A young couple from the Azores, Manuel Garcia da Rosa, 20, and Maria da Gloria Deniz, 20, both mill operatives, who courted in the faraway Azores, will marry in Lowell.

Custios Kardalas came here from Greece and so did Polythina Economopoulos. Custios is a leather worker in Peabody and is 35 years old. Polythina is 35 years old and she lives at 97 Adams street. Other intentions registered since the last were published include the following:

John J. Hartigan, 27, R. R. checker, 30 Burns street, and Bridget Lowney, 21, at home, 25 Crowley street.

John J. Scanlon, Jr., 22, clerk, 22 Brooks street, and Julia L. Dean, 21, at home, 19 Olive street.

Waldo R. Cumine, 27, broker, 124 Dunbar avenue, and Margaret Molloy, 22, at home, 98 Marginal street.

Special Meetings

Both branches of the city council will meet this evening in special sessions. The meetings have been called for the purpose of getting rid of a lot of the business that would come up on Tuesday evening next, and that being cautious might it was thought a good plan to get some of the business out of the way. The board of aldermen will draw jurors, while the common council will pass upon the business sent down from the board of aldermen, including the transfers and the proposition to add 15 new firemen to the fire department.

The Milk Inspector

The milk inspector was busy with the analysis of several samples of milk when The Sun reporter dropped in this forenoon. The inspector says that the milk is keeping well up to the standard. Once in a while a storekeeper is found to be negligent, inasmuch as he does not shake the can, and the result is that the cream does not mix through the milk and the second or third purchaser is liable to get pretty thin milk.

The mayor has held up a bill of about $6000, sent in by Herbert E. Fletcher of Westford, for paving blocks used in the paving of Central, Middlesex, Merrimack and Bridge streets.

DIED SUDDENLY

Richard Gilder, Noted Editor, Passed Away

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Richard Watson Gilder, editor-in-chief of the Century Magazine since its foundation in 1881, and widely known as an author and lecturer, died unexpectedly last night at the house of his sister, Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, of an aneurysm of the heart. He was 57 years of age. His daughter Rosamond, who is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis at the house of a friend, was at the bedside.

Mr. Gilder was taken ill during the delivery of a lecture on "Tennyson" before the Y. M. C. A. of Orange, N. J., on Wednesday night, November 3. He suffered considerable pain, but managed to finish his lecture. On the way home he collapsed in a Jersey City ferryboat, but managed first to summon assistance from New York by telephone. His son Rodman and Dr. J. S. Hodgson hurried to his assistance. The illness was first diagnosed as indigestion and nothing serious was expected to develop from it. Mr. Gilder was up and about the following day, though he suffered occasional seizures of sharp pain. His physicians, on the second diagnosis, realized that the nature of his malady was greater than a mere temporary attack of indigestion, but they did not acquaint Mr. Gilder with the truth.

Would You Enjoy Healthy Old Age?

Advancing years bring a tendency to coldness of the hands and feet, resulting from sluggish circulation, a torpid liver and constipation. This is a condition, not a disease, and can best be remedied by taking Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills which invigorate the liver, cleanse and revitalize the blood and tone up the whole system. They are of inestimable value, not only in advanced age, but also for people of all ages. They prevent premature wrinkles, give a healthy glow to the skin, and under their antiseptic and blood cleansing influences the complexion retains its freshness while sallowness permanently disappears.

Hundreds of grateful old ladies in their letters write: "Your pills make me look and feel ten years younger." Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills always make old age comfortable, and promote digestion and nutrition by their specific action on the stomach, liver and bowels. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These Little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

tion and nothing serious was expected to develop from it. Mr. Gilder was up and about the following day, though he suffered occasional seizures of sharp pain. His physicians, on the second diagnosis, realized that the nature of his malady was greater than a mere temporary attack of indigestion, but they did not acquaint Mr. Gilder with the truth.

Yesterday Mr. Gilder had passed a comfortable night and was resting easily in bed. No fears for him were felt and at noon his wife left the house. Shortly after one o'clock she was recalled by an urgent message. Dr. Joseph Collins and Dr. Theodore Janeway were called in consultation with Dr. Hodgson and it was realized that Mr. Gilder had only a few hours to live. He suffered great pain and opiates were administered freely to ease his distress. When the end came at six o'clock he was no longer conscious.

The funeral will be held from the Church of the Ascension and the burial will be at Bordenstown, N. J., where Mr. Gilder was born. The date and the pall bearers have not yet been named.

No statement was available last night from the offices of the Century Magazine.

COTTON EXPORTS

Showed a Great Gain in October

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The total value of cotton exports from the United States for the month of October, 1909, as shown by a bulletin issued today by the department of commerce and labor, reached the enormous sum of $88,553,354. In no one previous month has such reports ever reached the $80,000,000 mark. For the ten months of the present year ending with October these exports reached a grand total of $425,626,835 against $316,992,255 in the corresponding period of 1907, the highest record ever attained for a like period. If the present ratio is maintained for November and December all previous records will be broken and the $500,000,000 line will be crossed. Large production and high prices are responsible for this showing.

MANY MATTERS DISCUSSED BY ST. PETER'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY

In the fair hall, St. Peter's Holy Name society held its regular meeting last night. Vice President Richard Lyons presided. Several propositions for membership were received. A report from the committee in charge of the minstrel show showed progress. The literary committee reported that several lecturers have been communicated with, and that some fine lectures will be held this winter before the members. Rev. John Burns, spiritual director of the organization, spoke to the members, complimenting them for their fine showing, and urging them to keep up the good work. Remarks were also heard from Vice Pres. Lyons, Daniel F. Reilly, Michael H. McDonough, James Cook, Joseph Scanlon and James Sturt.

MRS. ADA BALLOU

To be Bride of Lyman J. Gage

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Here is a story of the charming Mrs. Ada Ballou, who will be married to Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury, on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Ballou, who lives at Coronado, near San Diego, Cal., is tall and stately. She has pale blue eyes and a mass of titian hair. She sings well, plays the piano and has the reputation of being one of the most fascinating women in California. Her first husband died soon after their marriage. Mr. Gage is 73 years old and has been married twice.

Mr. Thomas A. Wise, who plays the part of the senator in the "Gentleman from Mississippi" and a personal friend of Rev. C. E. Fisher, is to speak at the First Universalist church, Sunday evening, on "The Relation of the Church to the Stage."

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

A Remedy That Costs Nothing if It Fails to Do as Claimed.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, also a powerful antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, and thus creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpine is a well known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease. Yet it is not a coloring matter or dye.

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpine, combined with pure alcohol because of its cleansing and antiseptic qualities. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, revitalizes the roots, supplies hair nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Lowell only at our store, The Rexall Store, 111-113 Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack St.

SENATOR ALDRICH

Guest of N. Y. Chamber of Commerce

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, just back from his western trip, was the guest of honor last night at the 111st annual dinner of the New York Chamber of Commerce at the Waldorf-Astoria. At the speaker's table with him sat James Bryce, the British ambassador; Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, the German ambassador; United States Senators Root and Dewey; Postmaster General Hitchcock; Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel; former Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou; Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood; J. Pierpont Morgan; Gen. Horace Porter, and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford.

Senator Aldrich responded to the toast "The Congress of the United States."

Ambassador Bryce in response to a toast "His Majesty, King Edward," said:

"The United States has no warmer friend than Edward VII. And he represents the feeling of his people. I, in common with all other Englishmen, have been noting with satisfaction the growing friendship between the United States and its Canadian neighbors."

"Talk of war among nations is foolishness. The nations are all interdependent. Few men by the way, have done more for world-peace than my friend here, Senator Root, and my other friend here, Count von Bernstorff."

Count von Bernstorff, when his turn came, also ridiculed the idea of war. "International commerce," he said, "is the strongest source making for peace in the world today. It is therefore desirable that all of us should do what we can to establish firm commercial relations between the great nations of the world represented here tonight—America, England and Germany."

A VOLCANO HAS APPEARED IN MOUNTAINS OF LAS FLORES

MADRID, Nov. 19.—An official despatch received here last night says that a volcano has appeared in the mountains of Las Flores, near the island of Tenerife. Incandescent matter has been thrown out, accompanied by loud explosions. It is not known if there have been any casualties, but three relief ships have been despatched to the scene.

WATERWAYS CONVENTION

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 19.—Resolutions passed at the second annual convention of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways association, yesterday, justified a continuance of the proposed Atlantic inland waterways north from New York to Boston, the improvement of the Hudson river as far as Troy and its connection with Long Island sound through the Harlem river and ship canal.

Providence, R. I., was selected as the next place of meeting.

The re-election of Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, as president, evoked much enthusiasm. Notable among the addresses made during the day was that of Gov. A. J. Fisher of Rhode Island.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Guest of City of Norfolk and the Waterways Ass'n

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 19.—The second annual convention of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways association now assembled in this city, took on its most important feature today with the arrival this morning of President Taft for an all-day stay here as the guest of the association and the municipality of Norfolk. The president came in on the Mayflower at 5.30 o'clock, his arrival being announced by a double salute of 21 guns, the first of which was fired by the Norfolk light artillery batteries which were stationed right on the riverfront, and the second by the guns of the old receiving ship Franklin at the Norfolk navy yard. It was just as the sun began to shine, lifting a light fog through which the Mayflower had proceeded from Hampton Roads to Norfolk that the president's yacht dropped anchor on the naval anchorage off Hospital point on the Portsmouth side of the river. In a temperature productive of the first ice of the season in Norfolk, President Taft came ashore from the Mayflower on the naval tug Monawk, upon which he was met by Rear-Admiral E. D. Taussig, commanding this naval station, and the joint committee of the city of Norfolk and the waterways convention. Proceeding at once from the landing to the hotel, Pres. Taft accorded a reception to members and delegates to the waterways convention after which he proceeded to the grand stand erected at the confederate monument, where before delivering his address of the day he reviewed a military and civic parade, the chief marshal of which was Col. Walter, U. S. M. C., famous during the Philippine campaign for his heroic march across Samar and later prominent with the American forces in the Boxer uprising in China.

Facts About the Hall & Lyon Co.Cigars

THEY sell more cigars at retail than any one concern in New England. They sell the products of leading foreign and domestic manufacturers, and are distributors for many well known brands—each of their eleven shops being equipped with patent moistening devices in which a complete line of popular goods is carried, always in prime condition to smoke. In this department only men educated to the business are employed. They employ an expert who knows the quality of a cigar and how, when and where to buy it, and who further knows that he receives what he has bought. The volume of their cigar business, their buying power, and their knowledge of the goods they are buying, enable them to sell cigars singly or by the box at a saving to the consumer and an increased profit to themselves.

Fire in Georgetown University This Morning

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A fire burned out the library of Georgetown university early this morning. About 50 students were asleep in the dormitories over the library when the fire was discovered, but all escaped safely. The flames which originated in the boiler room licked their way through to the library above and rare volumes worth at least $10,000 were destroyed before the blaze was brought under control. The damage to the building was slight. A fire truck with fire horses hitched to a hose cart dashing down a 50 foot embankment demolished the outfit and another horse dropped dead after a hard run.

by President Zelaya while the matter is new to the public, but the state department having been now for nearly 24 hours in possession of the main facts has adopted an attitude of reserve and is awaiting with due patience some sort of an explanation from the Nicaraguan government. It is fairly assumed that the press despatch received last night from Managua is accurate in the statement that the men were executed after a court martial trial on a charge that they had attempted by the use of dynamite mines to blow up some of President Zelaya's troop transports.

If the department advises confirm this story the question at issue will be whether the charge against the men, assuming that it is proven, justified their execution. Probably everything will depend upon the method pursued by Cannon and Grace in their attacks upon Zelaya's forces. If it should appear that the Americans went into the lines of the government forces under disguise when they planted their mines they might be regarded as spies and so subjected to summary execution. But if they engaged in their operations openly, it will probably be held that they should have been treated as prisoners of war on the theory that an attack upon a ship by a mine is a legitimate act of lawful war. In the latter case there is no doubt that President Zelaya will be called to account and ample reparation demanded.

Nothing had been received this morning at the Nicaraguan legation here through the charge, Senor Rodriguez nor by Dr. Haza, the Nicaraguan minister, designating the facts given to the press last night.

KNOWN HERE

LATE MAJOR LEONARD HAD MANY LOWELL FRIENDS

Major John J. Leonard, whose funeral takes place tomorrow, was well known in this city and many expressions of regret have been heard. Major Leonard, it will be remembered, was chief marshal of the Holy Name parade held in Boston a year ago, in commemoration of the centennial of the archdiocese. Major Leonard was also prominent in the C. T. A. union and was a familiar figure at its conventions and was prominent in the organization of the Holy Family league parades in different years. In the Knights of Columbus, and the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, he held many offices of importance.

PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

The meetings conducted each evening at the Pentecostal church in First street are constantly growing in interest. The meetings are conducted by Rev. Will J. At the service last night there was special singing by the three Harbard sisters and Miss Conrad.

OXFORDS DANCE

SELECT PARTY IN RUNELS HALL
LAST EVENING

The Oxfords, a social organization of young men gave a select and delightful party in Runels hall last evening with about 100 couples present. The hall was prettily decorated in white and yellow with a profusion of chrysanthemums of those colors to enhance the beauty of the scene. Gilmore's orchestra played for an order of 20 engagements with an intermission at which light refreshments were served. The matrons were Mesdames, Alex. Rountree, M. Tighe, M. J. McCann, Hugh Downey and M. O'Loughlin. The party was under the management of Messrs. Mark J. McCann, James F. Cahill, John M. Downey and Lawrence O'Loughlin.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended supper and entertainment of the Brotherhood of the Pawtucket Congregational church was held Wednesday night at the church. The principal item on the menu was oysters, and besides the bivalves there were all the good things that go to make up an oyster supper. The entertainment was of a varied character. John E. Graham gave a very entertaining travel talk, telling of some of the more important European places. Guy Johnson sang, accompanied by Mrs. Perrault. Miss Gladys Hamilton gave some excellent readings and Master William Carr, a whistler of no mean ability, pleased the audience with his selections. He was accompanied by Miss Ella M. Penn. Magic was deftly performed by T. J. Knight. The committee in charge consisted of F. E. Harris chairman, L. A. Ayer and Robert McKinley.

You noticed that our man left no dirt—no noise—just Coke. You will do well if you talk this Coke matter over with your neighbor. Some people get splendid results from using a mixture of OUR COKE and Coal. The price of OUR COKE remains at $4.75 per chaldron, which means gentlemanly delivery without dirt and without noise—only the Coke.

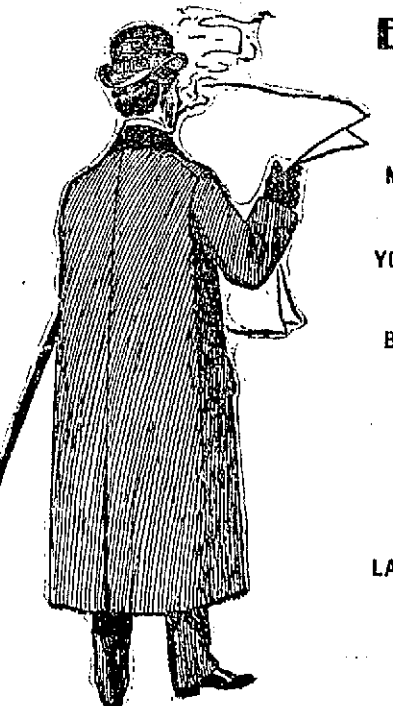

Colder weather is predicted. Don't wait, for you'll find "the line is busy" on cold days and have to wait.

THE GOVERNMENT

Is Trying to Locate Astor's Yacht

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—In an effort to locate the yacht Nourmahal on which Col. John Jacob Astor, his son Vincent and a party of friends are cruising, the government has swept the entire middle South Atlantic ocean. Cablegrams have been sent from the revenue cutter service to all points in the West Indies with a view of locating the missing yacht. Thus far not a word has been received from the vessel.

The treasury officials believe the yacht has gone into some obscure harbor to avoid rough weather. Credence is given to the report of the yacht by a fruiter, although it is not certain that the vessel sighted by the fruiter was the Nourmahal.

KAUFMAN RELEASED
BERLIN, Nov. 10.—Martin Kaufman of New York, who was arrested on Nov. 4 charged with having committed frauds in connection with the Cotton Goods Converters Co. of New York, was released by the authorities today. He voluntarily accompanied U. S. Post-office Inspector Hill, who made the arrest to Antwerp, where both will take the steamer Kroonland for New York. Extradition proceedings, which have been undertaken by the American embassy, were dropped on Kaufman's decision to return of his free will to the United States.

NEW TRIAL DENIED
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The application of E. E. Britton and P. A. Schroeder, former president and vice president of the Eagle Loan & Savings Co. for a new trial, was denied today by Justice Stapleton and the two bankers will have to go to Sing Sing prison on Monday. The two men were convicted of misappropriating $43,000 of the funds of the association of which they were officers. Britton's sentence is not less than 14 months nor more than three years and Schroeder's not less than one year nor more than three years.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR, HIS SON AND YACHT WHICH IS MISSING IN CARIBBEAN SEA

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The long delay in hearing from Col. John Jacob Astor and his son Vincent, who were cruising on the yacht Nourmahal in the Caribbean sea when the great hurricane swept the West Indies, caused grave alarm among the friends of the millionaire all over the world. For several days cable communication with the West Indies was cut off owing to the storm, and no wireless messages reached the outer world from that quarter of the globe. It was believed that when the cables got to working Mr. Astor would communicate with the New York Yacht club, but nothing has been heard from him since Nov. 8. Mr. Astor and his son sailed just a few days before public announcement was made of Mrs. Astor's suit for divorce. When the yacht reached Port Antonio, Jamaica, reporters went aboard and asked Mr. Astor about the suit, but he flatly refused to discuss it. It is not believed that he knows yet that the divorce has been granted. The Nourmahal is the most palatial yacht afloat. Her furnishings are also the most elaborate of any private vessel in the world. She can steam 5000 miles without replenishing her coal supply and carries a full equipment of lifeboats, and steam launches besides a crew of fifty men. She is also equipped with wireless apparatus.

MAN WAS ROBBED

Was Left Lying Unconscious in Road

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 10.—Left lying unconscious in the road near the Warwick high school some time last night, Patrick Keenan, 40, of Riverpoint was found by carmen this morning just in time to save his life. He had been assaulted and robbed of his watch and money.

BOYCOTT CASE

Heard in the Court at Hartford

HARTFORD, Nov. 10.—In an attempt to show how the alleged boycott of the hat factory of Lowe & Co. of Danbury was conducted by trade unionists in Boston, depositions by history jobbers were read when the case was called in court today. Several firms gave up handling the hats because they did not want the enmity of the labor interests, according to their depositions. The lawyers for the defense are endeavoring to show that no coercion was used in the crusade to have dealers eliminate non-union hats from their stores.

A HURRICANE

LISBON, Nov. 10.—A hurricane struck this city this afternoon, causing considerable damage. No fatalities are reported though it is rumored that a fishing vessel was swamped off shore.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

Protests Against the Decision of Justice Wright

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 19.—Emphasizing its approval by a rising vote the convention of the American Federation of Labor today adopted a report of the committee on president's report, endorsing the position taken by President Gompers in the Buck Stove & Range company injunction case and protesting against "the injudicial and intemperate language" used by Justice Wright in sentencing the three labor leaders to jail for contempt of court.

Discussing the use of injunctions in labor disputes the report says in part: "When the court arrogates to itself the power to issue injunctions, never contemplated by rules of equity and in direct violation of constitutional law and issues injunctions for the purpose of enforcing criminal law it departs from the domain of property rights and invades that of personal rights in a manner for which there can be no excuse, except that the court thereby becomes the sole judge of the law in the fact and, if the parties enjoined are declared guilty of contempt, the extent of the punishment, all of which is a direct violation of the fundamental laws of the land and of the Anglo-Saxon concept of human liberty."

"When any court assumes to exercise power not delegated to it by the constitution it invades the rights specifically reserved to the state and the people; its action becomes void from lack of jurisdiction and should not be obeyed."

The report declares that in the case of the Buck Stove & Range company, the court in violation of the constitution enjoins the right of free speech, free press and peaceable assembly in addition to proclaiming the false doctrine that patronage and good will in business is property.

The convention voted to appeal the injunction case and the contempt proceedings growing out of it to the United States supreme court and authorized the raising of funds for such an appeal.

CARPENTERS STRIKE

A Large Number of Workmen Out of Work

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—As the result of a strike of 80 carpenters employed in the construction of a large department store more than 1000 workmen on various building operations in this city are idle. The strike of the carpenters was called by the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, which claims that a Cincinnati Furniture Co. having the contract for workwork in the department store employs non-union labor in its factories. The other union workmen at work on the structure quit out of sympathy with the carpenters. Among those who stopped work were 54 granite cutters and setters and because of their action the Master Granite Cutters' association has ordered 14 firms in this city to look out all union cutters.

The union men as a counter move ordered every man not affected by the lockout to quit and as a result work on nearly every building operation where stock is used is at a standstill.

PRES. WILSON

SAYS THAT FOOTBALL SHOULD REMAIN

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18.—"Football is too fine a game to be abolished offhand," said Secretary Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton university, here today, when asked his opinion on the present agitation to abolish or modify the game. I do think, however, that it should be modified to some extent in order to obviate these fatal

THE ALSOP CLAIM

Chilean Government Wants to Submit it to The Hague

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 19.—The Chilean government today opened negotiations with Washington with a view to submitting the Alsop claim of the United States against Chile to a specially constituted court of arbitration at The Hague.

Great anxiety is felt here because of the notification through Chilean Minister Cruz at Washington that the United States will close its legation at Santiago within a few days unless the Chilean government consents to an adjustment of the Alsop claim or agrees to refer the dispute to The Hague.

The members of the American colony here protest that the manner in which the United States is proceeding in the matter is arbitrary and detrimental to American interests in Chile. They have communicated with a prominent attorney at Washington and asked him to use his efforts in their behalf.

It was reported lately that an agreement had been reached between the United States and Chile to submit the Alsop claim to The Hague for arbitration. This news was confirmed at Washington, where, however, it had accidents as much as possible. To this end I think the colleges and universities of the country should get together this winter and go over the situation carefully with the members of the football rules committee. I have no doubt that such a conference would result in the discovery of some means of preserving the autumn game and yet of eliminating the tragic features that have made this season so memorable."

Dr. Wilson delivered an address on "Ballot reform" here last night before the City club and left today for New York.

RAILROAD SOLD

The Price Paid Was $6,500,000

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—One of the last steps in the reorganization of the Western Maryland Ry. was taken today when the road was sold at public auction to the re-organization company, the sole bidder for the property. The price was $6,500,000, the minimum figure fixed by the United States circuit court for Maryland. A new company will be formed to take over the road and its franchise. This company will have an authorized capital stock of $50,000,000 common and $10,000,000 four per cent. non-cumulative preferred stock. It is expected that the receivership will be lifted by January 1 next.

Negro Attacked Wife of a Police Captain

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 19.—Michael Casey, captain of police, battled in his home at daylight today with a negro burglar who awakened Mrs. Casey by tugging at a ring on her finger. As the captain sprang from bed in response to his wife's scream the negro fired two shots, the bullets burying themselves in the bed, an inch above Mrs. Casey's head.

"Look Twice Before You Leap Once" is a wise old proverb. It has been happily applied a great many times, but never more so than it was yesterday when a man looking at the hood display in Dows' window said, "He who stops to buy what is made by food before he goes elsewhere 'look twice before he leaps once.' The Hood company is to be commended for the pains it takes to make each of its products the best that skill, experience and modern methods render possible.

SERMONS GONE

Did the L. & O. League Take Them?

WITNESSES FOR DEFENSE SAY NO

They Also State That Articles Claimed by Rev. Mr. Merrill Belonged to the League, Having Been Purchased from the Morning Mail Company

At today's session of the superior court the case of Rev. Charles Merrill vs. the directors of the Law and Order League was resumed with Rev. J. T. Carlyon on the witness stand, the latter having testified yesterday afternoon before the close of court.

Rev. A. T. Wedge, a member of the Law and Order League, was called next and he testified to meetings at which action was taken relative to disposing of the furniture.

Miss Merrill, daughter of the plaintiff, and his stenographer, testified to the removal of furniture and papers from her father's office to the office of the Law and Order League in the same building where she afterward had seen some of them. A map of the no-lit places in the state and some law books that had been taken were returned during the trial in police court.

A scrap book which witness claimed her own was not returned. On cross-examination Miss Merrill admitted that she worked on the scrap book in the Law and Order League office while in the employ of the league. She stated that she went with her father when he was given an opportunity to go and take back certain articles and that he took back certain articles. Miss Merrill on re-direct examination said that she worked no stated hours, but worked early and late and received $3.50 per week.

Mr. Owens added that her father received $50 per week and her salary was stipulated by him in the contract.

The Defense Opens

At this point the plaintiff rested and Mr. Owens called the witnesses for the defense without making an opening. The witnesses sworn were George Putnam, Rev. J. M. Craig, Rev. A. C. Perrin, Rev. George E. Dean, Mrs. Clark and W. T. Bartlett.

Mr. Putnam testified that as a result of a vote passed a committee of the league called on him and the league's office to take away the furniture as the league on the office had expired. Mr. Merrill stated that there was sickness in his family and he had not had dinner and asked to have the furniture left a week longer. This was agreeable to the committee and they were about to leave when Mr. Merrill asked Mrs. Clark, the treasurer, for the bills for the office furniture. Mrs. Clark declined to allow the original vouchers out of her possession but said she would make a copy. Mr. Merrill replied: "If you can't trust me with the vouchers I won't trust you to copy them." "Just before we went," said the witness, "Mr. Merrill said emphatically: 'If you don't give me those vouchers you won't get your furniture.'"

Witness said the committee then decided to take the furniture while they could. The list of articles prepared by the plaintiff was read to the witness and the latter said that some of them were not taken, others were returned to Mr. Merrill, while whatever belonged to the league was retained by the committee. Witness said he would not give up the scrapbook as the league had furnished the material for it and paid the girl who made it.

Witness denied that the league took any copies of sermons and had never seen any copies of sermons in the office. He claimed that the stenographic reports claimed by Mr. Merrill were the property of the league, and the league ordered the work done and paid the stenographer.

Cross examined by Mr. Leggett, witness repeated that certain articles were taken to Mr. Owens' office and examined and returned to Mr. Merrill, being his property. Mr. Putnam admitted that some of the property removed had found its way to the kitchen of the W. C. T. U.

Relative to the scrapbook Mr. Putnam was asked if he knew that there were entries in that book over ten years old, and he replied that he believed all the entries were made within a year. Witness said he went to school with Mr. Merrill thirty years ago, but he did not know he was engaged in law enforcement work until the league hired him.

William T. S. Bartlett was the next witness, and he enumerated the articles that he knew to have been taken from Mr. Merrill's office. He had never seen any copies of sermons. The files and sermons claimed by Mr. Merrill, he said, were purchased by him as treasurer of the league from the Lowell Morning Mail.

Several out of town lawyers were much provoked at the manner in which this very unimportant case took up the time of the court and kept them waiting.

In Divorce Court

Judge Sanderson took up quite a number of uncontested divorce cases during yesterday's session, mostly out of town cases. Edith A. Bent of Lowell asked to be freed from Harry A. Bent on grounds of intoxication, cruelty and non-support. Mary A. Richardson of Lowell sought a divorce from Frank L. Richardson of Lowell on grounds of intoxication and non-support. After paying everything within the house the mother removed the blinds from the windows and "looked" them.

Margaret Cutler's troubles began in England when she had to support her husband, Francis J., until he left her. In 1904 she came to this country to live with relatives in Dorchester and Lowell.

George A. Matthews of Somerville left his wife, Elizabeth C., at the time of the Klonald gold craze and he's there yet for all she knows, and she claims desertion.
George H. Wales of Wakefield asked a divorce from his wife, Florence

Wales, on the ground of infidelity, and named as the co-respondent a former chief of police of that place, who, it is said, had resigned and left the country. There was a bunch of exhibits, comprising 55 letters addressed to the wife, and a diary written in shorthand. Mr. Wales testified that his wife was a stenographer before her marriage to him, and that he found the letters and note-book in her trunk, which he forced open after he became suspicious. The court sampled the letters, and a public stenographer identified a type-written transcript of the contents of the diary.

IN POLICE COURT

Lincoln St. Arson Case Resumed Today

The case of Margaret Adams, charged with maliciously burning the dwelling house belonging to Robert G. Bartlett at 240 Lincoln street, on the morning of November 7th and also attempting to defraud two insurance companies, was resumed before Judge Hadley in the police court this morning.

The greater portion of yesterday was devoted to the hearing of the government's case and when the matter was called this morning Lawyer J. Joseph O'Connor presented the defendant's case.

William Henry Adams, the husband of the defendant, was the first witness called. He said that he lived at 240 Lincoln street and up to August of this year he had been employed in the fermenting room at the Harvard brewery.

Witness identified a chair produced in evidence as having been in the kitchen of his house. He said that all that was burned in the kitchen was the side of the wall and the chair which had been offered.

Mr. Adams stated that there was a clothing store in the kitchen and the bedroom. He then went into a detailed statement of articles in the different rooms, together with the value of each article.

Witness testified that he went to Pawtucket, R. I., on the 19th of October, for the purpose of securing work. While down there he sold some land he owned in that city to the park commissioners of Pawtucket, making a profit of $200 on the deal. He came back to Lowell on the 25th of October. On the morning of the fire in the house in Lincoln street, witness and his daughter were in Lexington.

Mrs. Margaret Adams, the defendant, was the next witness called. She testified to being alone in the house on the night of the fire. She told of being awakened by what sounded to her as though a person was scratching on the wall. She became frightened and started for the house of a neighbor. As she was leaving the house she turned around and saw the form of a man in the pantry.

Mrs. Adams said she kept kerosene oil in a two gallon can. She did not know what part of the house the can was in prior to the fire. Neither was she sure the last time that she used the oil, but was in the habit of filling the lamps every night and may have used the oil the night before the fire, when she was starting a fire in the stove.

Witness said that there was a clothes line stretched from the bedroom, where the fire started, to the kitchen. Referring to some waste that was admitted as evidence yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Adams said that she often found waste in the pockets of her husband's overalls when she went to wash them. Sometimes the waste was dirty and oily and she generally threw it away. She testified that she had also used some of the waste for cleaning the kitchen stove.

"Did you set any fire in your house on that Saturday night or Sunday morning?" asked Lawyer O'Connor.

"No," was the answer.
On cross-examination witness said that she took a bath during the latter part of the afternoon and retired about 5:30 o'clock. About 11:30 o'clock she awoke and feeling cold arose and lighted a fire and sat down until she got warmed. Some time afterwards she heard some person making a scratching noise and becoming frightened, started to go to the house of a neighbor. As she left the house she turned around and saw a man in her pantry. She started to run, but fell down and was rendered unconscious. The next thing that she knew was when she was found by the firemen.

Sent to Shirley.
James Canole, aged 17 years, was charged with the larceny of three pairs of gloves from the store of Moses Little in Bridge street. Canole admitted that he took one pair of gloves but denied that he took any more. During the course of the testimony it was brought out that he stole the gloves and sold one pair to another boy for twenty cents. He was found guilty and sentenced to the industrial school at Shirley.

Alexander Murray, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

Frank Charles was placed on probation several months ago but failed to appear in court for trial and that until he was arrested yesterday. He will spend the next few months at the state farm.

There were six $2 drunks.

DIED AT SCHOOL

Mary A. Shanley Succumbed at High School

Miss Mary A. Shanley, aged 16 years, dropped dead in a class room at the high school just before recitation this forenoon. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Shanley of 26 Phillips street. Mr. Shanley is one of Lowell's well known merchants and at the present time is conducting a fur store in the Colonial building.

The sudden death of Miss Shanley, who was a favorite with teachers and pupils alike, cast such gloom upon the school as to make it almost a house of mourning. It was but a few minutes before she was stricken down that her voice was heard in merry laughter.

Her class had just convolved for recitation when suddenly a low moan was heard and Miss Shanley was seen to drop from her chair to the floor. It was at first thought that she had fainted, but no time was lost in summoning medical assistance. Principal Irish dispatched four messengers for doctors while he himself used the telephone to summon them. In less than ten minutes Dr. Boyden Pillsbury and Dr. Lambert were on the scene, but life was extinct. Heart failure was the cause of death and the doctors said that death was instantaneous. She was a bright and lovable girl and enjoyed a large circle of friends. Besides her father and mother she is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

James E. O'Donnell favored the bill to provide that contracts for the performance of work for the commonwealth shall be based upon the employment of union labor and the payment of union wages.

James E. O'Donnell voted in favor of the bill to provide for the extension of the eight hour law to include certain employees of the state.

James E. O'Donnell was a firm believer in the bill prohibiting the employment of children under 16 years of age in factories, workshops and mercantile establishments more than eight hours a day.

James E. O'Donnell delivered a speech on and voted for the 54 hour bill, so called, which bill was introduced by the American Federation of Labor.

James E. O'Donnell supported the eight hour bill, so called, which was introduced by the American Federation of Labor.

James E. O'Donnell voted in favor of the bill introduced by W. E. Sproule and others which defined the duties of the female inspectors of the state police.

James E. O'Donnell appeared before the special legislative committee and advocated a bill relating to the old age pensions. In brief—

James E. O'Donnell was not content with voting for measures benefitting the laboring people, but worked for them.

MINE IS ENTERED

Hill of Bodies Was Discovered by Searching Party

Work of Bringing the Bodies to the Surface Begun—The Town Hall Turned Into Temporary Morgue—Scenes of Horror

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 19.—The St. Paul has been almost conquered. Mine inspectors and geological experts succeeded today after an all day and all night battle in clearing the shafts of the burning mine and early today Chicago firemen and a group of miners penetrated the galleries and for two hours and a half fought the smoldering fire in the coal veins. At 6 o'clock a second group of miners and railroad men entered the mine. All of them were working without oxygen helmets or apparatus and they suffered no ill effects from noxious gases or smoke.

The firemen discovered in the second vein a hill of bodies. How soon the bodies can be recovered is uncertain because the east portion of the gallery in which the fire originated is badly caved in and debris will have to be taken out and timbers erected to insure safety to the workmen. In the west portion of the gallery the fire still is burning but firemen have succeeded in getting into the vein with lines of hose for a distance of 50 feet.

James O'Connor, a Chicago fireman emerged from the main shaft early today and declared that the fire would be extinguished before many hours. O'Connor saw a "pile of human" bodies buried in the wreckage of the gallery running from the main shaft to the air vent and also saw bodies lying in heaps in the west vein where the fire was burning.

Early in the morning after the firemen had made their first descent and had turned a stream of water into the galleries without leaving the cage the fire in the west vein appeared to be raging. This gave rise to a report that it would be impossible to struggle further against the fury of the fire and that the mine must be closed. Inspector James Taylor sent a company of volunteer workmen into the mine at six o'clock to repair the approach to the east vein. The timbers, a few feet from the cage, had been burned out. Taylor explored the gallery in which the fire originated, going in as far as the obstructions caused by collapse of the walls.

It was the general opinion of the miners that bodies could be taken out before many hours. How many bodies already have been discovered was not disclosed.

Three bodies, the first recovered through the main shaft, were brought to the surface at 8 o'clock. A pile of others were in sight but passage to them for the time being was hampered by fire.

Four other bodies were brought up on the next trip of the cage one of them a boy. The ambulance, guarded by millmen, was followed by crowd to the town hall which has been turned into a temporary morgue. Here scores of women sought to identify the dead as their own but the condition of the bodies made this difficult.

Two of the bodies were quickly identified. One was that of Richard Buckles, a stableboy, the other that of Louis Gibbs, Gibbs' widow was too ill to leave her home. The body was identified by Gibbs' former comrades.

There were many women in the crowd that gathered about the bodies, but there were more children. All other turned away, some weeping silently, others choked with sobs.

"I was at Messina after the earthquake, but the scenes following that catastrophe were no more pathetic than this," said E. P. Bicknell, national Red Cross representative.

Among those in the crowd were a woman and her little daughter. The child tried to comfort her. "Never mind," said the little one. "We'll find papa," but her hopeful prattle fell on unheeding ears as the mother made no reply.

One of the dead men was identified as a miner named McMullen. William Redmond, a Chicago fireman who aided in bringing the bodies from the mine, said that the arm of the boy Buckles was around McMullen's neck and the latter appeared to have been carrying him.

"The lad's head was tucked down under McMullen's coat. That is the way they died. The two were found one hundred feet from the shaft. I suppose the man had been trying to carry the boy to the air shaft."

The fire in the mine is entirely extinguished. Great credit for this was given to the Chicago firemen by Thomas Steele, superintendent of the mine.

The condition of the bodies so far recovered shows clearly that they died from suffocation and that they had been dead since the first day. The water at first poured into the mine was converted into rivers on the floors of the veins where the dead lay. The flames heated the water so that the bodies were literally cooked. That they did not die by fire is evident, as their clothing was not scorched.

There seems to be no doubt about the identification of McMullen but later in the day confusion arose as to the identification of the other two bodies. Though Fireman Redmond said that it was McMullen who was found with a boy clasped in his arms and though this boy was identified as Richard Buckles, the mother and sister of Alfred Krohl say that the boy's body is that of Alfred and the body first thought to be that of Gibbs is that of Henry Krohl, the father. Mrs. Krohl claimed the bodies.

A body brought to the surface before noon was identified as Charles Waite, night boss in the third vein, who was one of the volunteer rescuers who went down Saturday afternoon after the fire broke out.

Mrs. Charles E. Sifton, supervisor of public schools in Portland, Oregon, is visiting old friends in Chelmsford and this city. Mrs. Sifton is a relative of City Clerk Daddman. She called at the city hall this forenoon and later she visited the Textile school.

15,000 PERSONS

Were Affected by Strikes in This State

Part 1 of the 39th annual report of the state bureau of statistics on labor, just issued, deals with the strikes and lockouts in this state during the past year.

Director Chas. F. Gettemy has made one important and comprehensive change over the previous documents, in changing the statistics to show the number of strikes successful or otherwise instead of giving figures to show the number of establishments in which they were successful or otherwise.

The report says there was a marked decrease in the number and magnitude of strikes throughout the state last year as compared with 1907, due in a large measure to the general depression in business.

During the year there were 98 disputes affecting 471 establishments, in which 7852 employees struck, throwing out of work 14,539 other employees and causing a loss in working time amounting to 222,754 days.

In comparison, in 1907 there were 236 disputes affecting 44 establishments, in which 16,479 persons struck, throwing out of work 11,186 other employees and resulting in the loss of 452,812 working days.

The large number of establishments

affected by the comparatively small number of disputes last year was due, according to the report, to the strikes in the Quincy granite industry, in which 201 establishments were affected, and to the strike of the lathers at Lynn, where 66 establishments were affected, and of the number thrown out of work as the result of strike action on the part of others, 11,016 were in the Lynn factories.

Of the 98 disputes last year 51 were cases in which less than 28 strikers were involved; there were 71 in which the number of strikers was under 51 and only eight in which the number of strikers exceeded 100, were successful.

Analyzing the strike figures still further the report shows that of the total number of disputes last year 64 were "attacks" or disputes begun in the first place by the employees and 34 were "defences" or those begun in the first place by employers.

Although one would naturally expect to find that the largest number of strikes had been in Boston such was not the case, as Lynn had 14 and Boston but 12. In Brockton, Fitchburg and Springfield there were five strikes each.

In establishments affected by the strikes Quincy led with 201, Lynn 80, Springfield 45, Brockton 27, and Boston 23.

In the establishments in which strikes were ordered by the labor organization the men were successful in 30.34 per cent. of the strikes, while in strikes which were not ordered by the labor organizations the percentage of success was only 12.50.

The most common method of settling strikes was by direct negotiations between employees and employers. In 837 of the establishments the strikes were settled in that way.

There were 28 establishments in which the disputes were settled by arbitration. There were 16 establishments in which the strikes were settled by the employees returning on the employers' terms and there were five strikes which were settled by the labor unions ordering the strikers back, under the old conditions.

FIRST INTIMATION OF SUGAR FRAUDS TEN YEARS AGO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—That the first intimation of frauds against the government in connection with the sugar importations was brought to the treasury department as far back as 1898 was declared yesterday by W. H. Theobald, a former confidential agent of the treasury department.

Mr. Theobald said that he was assigned to make an investigation on the sugar refinery docks in Brooklyn at that time, but was "called off" after three days' work and the investigation was not continued. He said that the sugar frauds were a small item in the amount of money the government lost annually from undervaluations of merchandise which would reach $20,000,000.

GIFT OF $10,000

Mrs. Storor's Present to Catholic University

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The financial report of the Catholic university, submitted by Mgr. Thomas J. Shahan to the special committee of the directors who are examining into the finances of the institution, states that Mrs. Bellamy Storor has given $10,000 toward the permanent endowment of the hall of philosophy.

Mrs. Storor promised this donation to the first rector of the university, Mgr. John J. Keane, now archbishop of Dubuque, and she has paid 5 per cent. on her note ever since. The board of trustees at their meeting voted her unanimous thanks for her generosity.

The rector stated the university has now no debts and that its invested funds amount to $701,805.20. To this will be added shortly the legacy of Mrs. Emily Lusby of Baltimore, whose estate is being settled, which will amount to about $120,000.

Mgr. Shahan announced that the following donations had been received during the year: $4750 from the estate of Patrick P. Sullivan of Boston, $3000 as a partial settlement of the estate of Rev. Augustus Murphy of Rome, N. Y., $1000 from the will of Julius F. Foy of St. Louis and $250 from Mrs. Ellen Christy of Cincinnati.

Cardinal Gibbons has issued a further appeal for funds to enlarge certain departments of the university, and this sum will be collected as usual in all the churches of the United States on a selected date.

BURNING ECZEMA QUICKLY SPREAD

Started Like Ringworm on Hand—Hand Swelled and Then Humor Spread to Arms, Legs and Face—It was Something Terrible.

PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED: CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for a very bad case of eczema with complete success. About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the shape of a large pinhead on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm, and made very little of it. He gave me a wash and told me to apply it before going to bed and all would be over in the morning. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I poulticed it. When the doctor came to his office he showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that he had never experienced such a case in his practice and said it was well I poulticed it. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. After I had tried this doctor, as I thought, long enough, I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was a bad case of eczema and that it would take quite a while to cure it. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further.

I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled with another attack since. I still use the Cuticura Ointment in my family as it is one of the best remedies to heal a sore or other injury rapidly. I can freely and truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are the best so far as my experience went with them and I am still recommending them, feeling sure I am not making a mistake. C. Burkhardt, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1909.

Breach of Promise is Alleged

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Maj. Albert L. Wyman of the quartermaster's department of the Second brigade, M. V. 21, a druggist at 79 Berkeley street, was named as the defendant in a suit for breach of promise filed in behalf of Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, a nurse, in the superior court yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff asks $10,000, and her attorney, W. R. Scharton, declares that there are other suits to follow.

Miss Sullivan is a pretty young woman. She used to live on Gray street, but recently she moved, and her lawyer will not disclose her new address. He says he does not want reporters calling on her. She suit filed yesterday is returnable Dec. 1 and on that date the attorney will file his declaration.

ALSO CLAIM

AFTER 35 YEARS ASSUMED CRITICAL STAGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Alsup claim of more than $1,000,000 against Chile, which has been pending for upwards of 35 years, has assumed a critical stage. Intimation has been given to the Chilean minister in Washington that unless a final settlement is made within the next few days or the claim is referred to The Hague for trial on its merits the American legation in Chile will be closed. No ultimatum has been given to Chile, but the withdrawal of diplomatic reports will be in the way of a forcible protest against the delays which have characterized the policy of the Chilean government in dealing with the Alsup claim.

NEW SKIN REMEDY STOPS ALL ITCHING

Skin Troubles of Adults and Infants Quickly Cured

When it is known that psoriasis, the now skin discovery, will stop the torturous itching attending eczema with first application and bring immediate relief and comfort to sufferers from all skin troubles, its merit will be appreciated. On the tender skin of chafing infants, psoriasis may be used with soothing and beneficial effects. It is applied externally, and its remarkable healing powers begin at once.

All skin diseases, including eczema, acne, herpes, rash, tetter, etc., yield immediately to psoriasis. Occasional applications in small quantities will quickly banish pimples, lumps, blackheads, blotches, and will relieve and cure itching feet, scaly scalp, humors, etc. A special 50-cent package is prepared for those who use psoriasis for these minor skin troubles. This, as well as the regular two-dollar jar, is on sale at Falls & Burkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's and other leading drug stores in Lowell.

An experimental supply of psoriasis may be obtained, free of charge, by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York.

SPEAKER CANNON

Defends the Rules of the House

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, answered his critics with a defense of the present rules of the house and denied that the speaker was a czar. Mr. Cannon paid his respects to Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, and Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri, the leader of the minority in the house.

President Taft was praised for his defense of the new tariff law in his speech at Winona, Minn., during his recent trip across the country.

According to Mr. Cannon, Senator Cummins complained that no information was placed before congress during the recent tariff revision. Mr. Cannon remarked that there were carloads of information for any who wanted to make use of it, and added:

"There has been no way discovered by which information can be put in a man's skull without any industry on his part."

A denial of the charges that he read either Senator Robert La Follette of Wisconsin or Senator Cummins out of the republican party, was entered by Mr. Cannon.

"What I did say," said Mr. Cannon, "was that if Cummins or La Follette were republicans, then I was not."

In speaking of Champ Clark, Mr. Cannon said:

"We all like Champ Clark, but what he does not know about ad valorem duties, schedules and parliamentary law would make a large library; but he is an expert on Chautauques."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

But four more performances remain to be given by Helen Grayce and her admirable company at the Opera House. Slowly but surely this worthy organization has been attracting the attention that it deserves and it is expected that the farewell appearances will be greeted by a number of overflowing houses. The Pit, this evening, has been attracting special attention as this famous play based on speculation is a companion to "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Man of the Hour." It tells an up-to-date story in a way that simply compels the attention as the scenes, located on the floor of the Chicago stock exchange in which a mob of fifty people are used, are said to be the most interesting found in any modern drama. Tomorrow afternoon that whimsically truthful play, "The House of a Thousand Candles" will be given with the same care to detail that characterized its presentation Tuesday evening. The engagement closes tomorrow night with "The Bishop's Carriage," a dramatization of the novel of the same name that tells the story of Nanoe Olden, who styles herself Nan, the Nipper, and who is a sneak thief. Her adventures in the underworld and her final success on the vaudeville stage are most entertaining. "The Devil" was presented in a masterful manner last evening. Miss Grayce, Mr. Barker and Mr. Ashe; were all most convincing.

"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE."

Monday evening "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be presented at the Lowell Opera House. Frederick W. Pierce will be seen in the difficult dual role. The Salem News says a standing room audience at the Empire witnessed the performance of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and it was presented in a manner that delighted the audience. The play gives Mr. Pierce a chance to show his power as an actor, and it was surely improved by him to the utmost. He deserves a great deal of praise for his work, it was necessary for him to respond to curtain calls at the end of each act, Mr. Pierce, is supported by Miss Marie Rustell and a carefully selected company.

"THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER."

A drama of heart interest called "The Convict's Daughter" will be the attraction at the Opera House, next Tuesday evening, Nov. 23. "The Convict's Daughter" has been played in nearly every city in the United States and Canada with success, both financially and artistically and its present New England tour has brought forth many words of praise. The company selected for the numerous characters is a good one and each player is cast for a role pleasing to his ability. The settings are all in keeping with the atmosphere of the story and add greatly to the interest of the play. The engagement here will be at popular prices.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

"The Old Homestead," that masterpiece of New England rusticity transplanted to the stage by Denman Thompson, has not yet lost its charm, though the present is the twenty-fourth season of the old play. This quaint and entertaining glimpse of New England farm life still has a strong hold upon the public. It is a clean, wholesome and pure drama. One that mother can take boys to see and find a good lesson in the presented show. It may not rank very high as literature, but it touches the true human chord. We all know about "The Old Homestead" just as we know about "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and it is pleasant to note that it loses none of its interest and pleasing qualities by repetition. "The Old Homestead" comes to the Opera House Wednesday, November 24, matinee and night. Seats for the engagement go on sale tomorrow morning.

"EAST LYNNE."

A noteworthy performance of everybody's favorite drama, "East Lynne" will be given at the Opera House Thursday, November 25, by Joseph King's New York company. The production will be given under the personal supervision of Mr. Joseph King, a stage director of reputation and ability, and a highly artistic meritorious performance is assured.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

From the position of dough-mixer in a hotel kitchen to that of a headliner in vaudeville, is the road traveled by Luigi Marabini, the rapid fire Italian ice sculptor, who is one of the features at Hathaway's theatre, this week. Marabini first took up his work of modelling in Vienna, where he became financially embarrassed. He first modelled out of dough, then was urged to make statuary out of confections. Later, while working in a big London hotel he conceived the idea of ice carving, the models to be used on the tables during special occasions. His first work was "Leda and the Swan." Two years ago he came to America, and has made a decided hit with his work since that time.

THEATRE VOYONS

There are two ten strikes on the bill at the Theatre Voyons today. The entire production of "Rigoletto," Verdi's great opera is winning approval at every showing and it deserves every bit of it. The second big hit is that good old song, "Edison Alannah" sung by Mr. and Mrs. Dales. The singer's voices, a beautiful deep alto of great range and a clear pleasing tenor, blend well together.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

After dinner drop into the Academy and spend a pleasant afternoon. The entire bill is changed every Monday and Thursday, thus giving the patrons of the theatre plenty of good variety. If you witness one performance at the Academy you will become a regular patron, one would hardly imagine that such a show as given here could be presented on a paying basis at a cost of admission of only five cents, but the Academy possesses the advantage of being the largest picture theatre in Lowell and hence can seat the largest audience comfortably.

STAR THEATRE

The smallest and funniest acrobats on the American stage, the Turner Brothers, and Gertrude Lamont in her singd and whistling specialty are extraordinary vaudeville attractions at the Star theatre. New pictures were shown today. The admission of five cents allows a seat.

PROF. LOWELL

ASKED FOR RECORDS OF OBSERVATORY WORK

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Nov. 19.—Dr. Percy Lowell, director of Lowell observatory has been asked by the German national museum where all the fundamental discoveries in science are being preserved, for records of the observatory's work to be placed in permanent archives and exhibit of that institution. The material wanted comprises a series of photographs of Mars and Jupiter, spectra of Mars showing water vapor and comparison spectra, spectra of other planets and the characteristic spectra exhibited at Dresden last summer by Slipher.

The honor thus conferred is considered one of the greatest, says Dr. Lowell, and the first ever conferred on an American observatory.

SIMPLE FORMULA FOR HAIR TROUBLES

There are no better things known for treating the hair and scalp than the following: Refined soap, white of eggs, glycerine, Cocaine, coconut oil and salicylic acid. The refined soap is used to cleanse the hair and scalp of dirt and impurities generally. The Cocaine coconut oil helps to make a profuse lather, and gives a beautiful silky gloss to the hair. The white of eggs loosens the dandruff and scales on the scalp and is one of the finest things known for this purpose. Glycerine is a valuable thing in all skin troubles. It softens, soothes and heals the scalp, and its excellent properties are known to everybody. Salicylic acid is a destroyer of germs and bacteria. It is also one of the standard antiseptics, and prevents the disagreeable odors that are often found on the head and hair. Instead of going to the trouble and expense of securing these ingredients and mixing them yourself, buy Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation, which is made exactly according to the foregoing formula. Birt's Head Wash keeps the pores of the scalp and is one of the finest cure proper nourishment. Ask your doctor about it. Price 60c, a jar, at all druggists.

Grows Hair
PARISIAN SAGE
Cures Dandruff.
AN ARMY OF CLEAN HEADS

THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS DANDRUFF DIRTY A YEAR AGO NOW HAVE SNOW WHITE SCALPS

In America the dandruff germ must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun, and already thousands of intelligent Americans have permanently rid themselves of this filthiness.

To-day it is no more necessary for a man to have dandruff in his hair than to have tartar on his teeth.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indomitable dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

And it can be destroyed, and millions of dandruff germs have been destroyed, thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parisian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks, or your money back.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye; it will not color the hair, but will prevent it from turning gray, and put new life and beauty into it. It is a primo favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful.

SHOCK TOO GREAT

Sick Man Died After Meeting His Brother

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19.—After being lost to his family for ten years, the shock of meeting his brother proved too much for Stephen Bassett, whose body was sent to New Rochelle, N. Y., early today. While chatting to W. J. Bassett, a New York traveling man, an official of the Pressed Steel Car Co. of McKees Rocks, near here, said: "We have an employee of your name in bad shape from pneumonia at a hospital here."

The traveling man suggested that they visit the hospital, mentioning that he had a brother who had been missing for ten years.

Going to the ward where the patient lay the New York man discovered his long lost brother. The meeting was pathetic, but proved too much for the sick man, who died in a few hours.

It is said the dead man, who was 35 years of age, was the son of rich parents.

COST OF LIVING

Has Increased Greatly in Austria

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The cost of living recently has grown so great in Austria, according to a report made today to the department of commerce and labor, by Consul Brittain, of Prague, that the government of that country has taken the matter in hand and will if possible check the further advance of prices. Among other concessions the people of Austria desire that the cattle and meat business of Vienna be taken over by a newly proposed Agrarian bank. Another demand is the establishment of a central office for the utilization of cattle products with branches in Austria and foreign countries to be supported by the proposed bank. To carry on this project will require about $4,000,000.

FRENCH COURTS

Make a Change in Trial Methods

PARIS, Nov. 19.—For the first time in a French assize court a trial was conducted today after the Anglo-Saxon fashion. This was in fulfillment of the wish of Minister of Justice Barthelemy that certain reforms be instituted, including the doing away of the judge's interrogation of the prisoner.

Today the public prosecutor conducted the examination of witnesses as is the practice in the courts of the United States and at the conclusion of this examination the prosecutor asked for the discharge of the accused on the ground that the evidence developed was insufficient.

Deputy Magistrate introduced in the chamber of deputies a bill providing that witnesses in court trials may have a lawyer present when they are examined.

ELOPING PAIR

Were Detained at Ellis Island

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A young pair who eloped in Paris were arrivals yesterday by the Gasconne, and were taken to Ellis Island because they were not married. The young man was Paul Herr, 24 years old; the young woman, Juliette Berthelet, 18 years old. Herr is an engraver of jewelry, and expects to go into business here. Juliette is a milliner.

Paul's parents are both dead, but Juliette's father is still living and, to the pain of both, objected to Paul. Neither was of age, and under the circumstances it was impossible for them to marry in France. They determined to fly to America, where Paul was sure he could make his fortune. They flew to the Gasconne, thinking they could be married by the captain after the vessel got to sea.

They found Capt. Dumont not disposed to perform the ceremony. His ship was in French territory, he explained, and why should he marry them if they were not eligible to be married ashore? So when the liner arrived, they found the inspectors waiting, and more was in store.

So favorably did young Herr impress the inspectors that they thought some arrangement would be made with the French consul's office by which the young pair might be allowed to land.

U. S. GOVERNMENT FRICK MAY DIE

To Recognize the Belligerents Physicians Say That His Injuries May be Fatal in Nicaragua

The State Department Refuses to Discuss the Matter—Nicaraguan Minister Received the State Dept's. Notice Today—No News Yet From Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Indications seem clearly to point to a recognition by the United States government of the belligerency of the revolutionary government in Nicaragua under Gen. Estrada and it is not improbable that a public declaration to that effect will be made in the near future. As hitherto the state department officials decline to discuss even the probability of such a course but from all the surrounding circumstances of the case such action undoubtedly would be justified, it is said.

At this moment the insurgent forces are in practical control of at least one-half of the whole Nicaraguan territory and have possession of the entire Atlantic coast line except Greytown and the blockade of that port completes the whole line.

The state department has heard nothing from any Nicaraguan quarter since yesterday. The warships which have been dispatched to Nicaraguan waters are expected to arrive at their destination sometime today and it is not improbable that wireless reports may be received before the close of today. Their presence in the Nicaraguan waters will at least have the value of indicating that the United States has a very great interest in the contest now being waged in that country.

Dr. Hezera, the Nicaraguan minister received this morning the state department's note demanding an explanation from the Zelaya government of the execution of Canino and Grace and a reply thereto is now being prepared. It was admitted at the legation that "a report of the incident" had been received from Zelaya. It is said that the revolutionists are conducting their movements against the Zelaya army in strictly military fashion in contrast of the methods of Zelaya, who is declared to have violated many of the established rules of civilized warfare.

Only in recent times with the development of the system of neutrality has the subject of recognition of belligerency acquired scientific precision and consistency.

The more recognition of the existence of a condition of hostilities or insurgency; does not imply the recognition of a legal state of war, the parties to which are to be treated as belligerents. Belligerency is recognized by the nations of the world where a struggle has attained a certain magnitude and affects the interests of the recognizing power. The recognition of belligerency involves the right of blockade, visitation, search and seizure of contraband articles on the high seas and abandonment of claims for reparation on account of damages suffered by other citizens from the presence of warfare. It does not, however, confer on the community recog-

LIMA, O., Nov. 19.—Physicians gave up hope for William Frick of Bellefontaine, member of the wealthy Frick family, following the amputation of both his legs last night, but he rallied and today had a slight chance to recover. The woman who fell with him from a third story window, Wednesday, and who gave her name as Miss Adams of Toledo, today admitted that she is married and that her husband lives in eastern Ohio. She is held on the charge of disorderly conduct. She has developed symptoms of internal injuries.

Frick made his will last night, bequeathing his property to his eldest daughter.

Deputy Sheriff Vail, Collector Loeb announced that the office of deputy collector, which Mr. Vail had occupied, has been abolished. Of Mr. Vail's removal, he says:

"The collector has no proof nor have Special Assistant Attorneys General Smith or Stimson proof of any corruption on his part, but he was in charge of the weighing division during the time that the extensive underweighing frauds were perpetrated and the fact that such conditions could exist in his department warrants his separation from the service on the grounds of negligence and inefficiency."

Collector Loeb in making today's announcement added significantly: "The collector is continuing his investigation."

73 EMPLOYEES

Removed From the Custom Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Collector of the Port William Loeb, Jr., today announced the removal from the customs service of 73 employees and attaches of the weighing and other divisions of the custom service here. Among those dismissed are James P. Vail, formerly deputy surveyor of the weighing division; George E. Bedell, an inspector formerly chief clerk of the weighing division; J. T. Hyland and Joseph O'Carroll, ex-foreman of weighing.

Besides those enumerated the removals include ten assistant weighers, three inspectors, formerly assistant weighers, one inspector, formerly an assistant gauger and one assistant dealer.

In addition the collector states that since March 5th last, the day he took office, he had removed from the service for irregularities in the weighing department 15 other officials six of whom are now under indictment. In other branches of the office he has removed for cause thirty officials making the total number of removals from the service since March 5, seventy-three.

Finest Display of Premiums Ever Seen
in Lowell--All FREE for "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps

When the legislature, a number of years ago, passed that law making it impossible for merchants to give trading stamps in Massachusetts, we advised you to send your "S. & H." stamps to Providence for redemption.

Many took advantage of our suggestion. Others, we find, did not. For their benefit we announce any of the old series of "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps which were regularly collected by the holder, can now be brought to our Premium Parlor and exchanged for "S. & H." Stamps of the new series.

NOW IT IS YOUR TURN

The law prohibiting merchants giving you an inducement for your cash trade is unconstitutional. Today you can buy everything you use or wear from merchants who will sell you better goods for less money than their competitors and will also liberally reward your patronage.

The method they use is "Premiums," not of the ordinary sort, but the finest assortment of high class merchandise procurable.

In the Premium Parlor, which we have just opened at 35 John St., these Premiums (merchandise) are on exhibition. All you have to do to acquire anything or everything there, is to obtain Trading Stamps—the famous "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps—the only money we accept.

If you obtain at least one "S. & H." Stamp with each ten cents you spend, you can annually fill many books with them.

Come tomorrow—come frequently—and see how many beautiful things you can acquire each year if you trade with merchants who give "S. & H." Green Trading Stamps, and demand them each time you make a purchase.

NIGHT EDITION

REV. JOHN J. SHAW

Intends to Erect New Parochial School

Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor of St. Michael's church, has announced to his parishioners that he contemplates the erection of a new parochial school next year. There are at present 550 pupils in the school and they are taught by 12 nuns. This year it was necessary to establish school rooms in the school hall and even now the quarters are scarcely adequate to accommodate the pupils. Father Shaw has secured an option on a site, it is understood, close by the church and the site of the present school, and it is believed that in the spring of next year work on the school building will be begun.

OLIVARES HOME BOARD OF POLICE

Is Guarded at Day and Night

PANAMA, Nov. 19.—Passengers arriving here from Nicaragua report that President Zelaya has severed relations with Jose D. Olivares and that the latter's home at Managua is guarded day and night. They say that Zelaya distrusts his own men has surrounded himself with foreigners and that 1000 persons have been imprisoned at the capital either because they were suspected of disloyalty or had refused to contribute to the war tax.

CUDAHY BOY

SAID TO BE IN THIS CITY TODAY

It was reported about the city this afternoon that the Cudahy boy who was kidnapped by "Fat Crow" about nine years ago, was here and to prove that all interest in a kidnapping that occurred so many years ago has not been dissipated, a small army hung about the Cudahy packing house in Market street anxious for a glimpse of young Cudahy. A reporter for The Sun was one of the curious, and he learned that the Cudahy young man who dropped off in Lowell was not the fellow who had been kidnapped by "Fat" Crow, but a brother of the boy who was kidnapped. The young man who visited here this afternoon was Joseph Cudahy. He has an interest in the business and makes frequent visits to the various houses of the Cudahy Co.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Has Refused to Recognize the New Nicaraguan Minister

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Announcement that the United States government is threatened of the high handed actions of the small Central American republics practically was contained in a despatch sent late yesterday to the Bluefields Steamship Co., which sought the protection of the state department from interference by the insurgents now operating against President Zelaya. An hour later a peremptory note, couched in diplomatic language, but none the less direct, was delivered to Senor Felipe Rodriguez, charge d'affaires of the Nicaraguan legation, demanding a full and complete explanation of the execution of the two Americans, Leonard Grace and Leroy Cannon, who were executed by order of Zelaya when they were found in the insurgent army.

Pending a satisfactory explanation of the occurrence, President Taft has refused to recognize Isidoro Haza, the new Nicaraguan minister. Mr. Taft is thoroughly aroused by the actions of

BLAMES THE LAW

Maine's Liquor Code is

Denounced

BIDDEFORD, Me., Nov. 19.—Chief of Police Charles B. Harmon surprised the court attendants yesterday by a vigorous denunciation of the prohibitory law. The occasion arose in the trial of James Kearns, an expressman, charged with the sale of a cheap sort of whiskey known locally as the "Inflammable brand," to the drinking of which is attributed the death of ex-Policeman Hayes and of Alexander Norman on Oct. 2. Kearns was discharged.

Chief Harmon declared that the Maine prohibitory law had made more perjurers than all the other laws on the statutes combined among the hundreds arrested for violation of the law. He denounced the law as being wrong in principle and in its working and he vehemently declared it as his belief that a man arrested for violating the prohibitory law was justified in going into court and perjurying himself in order to clear himself.

LAWYER PATRICK

Has Secured Writ for

New Hearing

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—In spite of the many defeats he has met in the courts in efforts to regain his liberty, the persistency and legal acumen of Albert T. Patrick, who is serving a life sentence in Sing Sing for the murder of William Marsh Rice, in 1900, succeeded in obtaining another writ of habeas corpus yesterday through his counsel, Wm. L. McDuff, from Presiding Judge Hirschfeld of the appellate division of the supreme court in Brooklyn.

The writ is returnable Nov. 29 and directs Warden Frost of the state prison to produce the petitioner in court at the time.

Patrick argued his own case before the same court a few months ago and a decision was rendered against him.

EVANGELIST STAIR

SPOKE ON "THE GREAT DISCOVERY"

The Great Discovery was Evangelist Stair's subject at the revival services in Calvary Baptist church last night. A pleasant feature of the service was the presence of thirty or more persons from Lynn, friends of Mr. Reynolds, the saint, who is being heard to good advantage at these revival meetings. During the campaign in Boston and vicinity Mr. Reynolds directed a chorus in Lynn and it was a delegation from this chorus that came to Lowell last night to co-operate in the union meeting at Calvary Baptist church, and they sang several selections.

NORWEGIAN WRITER ILL

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The condition of Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the Norwegian writer, is most grave. He has been unable to receive treatment for his ailments for which he came to Paris. His son was summoned to his bedside today. Daily bulletins describing the author's condition are transmitted to the kings of Denmark and Norway. Accompanied by members of his family Bjornson arrived here on Nov. 11 to undertake a course of treatment which it was at least hoped would prolong his life.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Of St. Patrick's Academy Alumni

At the meeting of the banquet committee held last evening many important plans were formulated to make the coming banquet and reunion on Dec. 23 a big success. Very good reports were received from the different sub-committees and each showed progress.

The committee on speakers has in view several prominent citizens and speakers and is also endeavoring to have one of the early Xaverian Brothers present to deliver an address. It was decided to issue the invitations and tickets at once and members are urged to procure their tickets from Treas. Michael E. Adams at their earliest convenience. The committee extends an invitation to every former attendant of the school, whether a graduate or not, to attend this grand banquet and reunion and promises an evening of genuine enjoyment.

The committee adjourned to meet again Thursday, Dec. 2.

WANTS DIVORCE

Because Husband Kissed Her too Much

TRENTON, Neb., Nov. 19.—Because, she says, John E. McGrew exceeded the kissing limit, Mrs. Henrietta McGrew has sued him for divorce. She alleges that he has insisted on kissing her to a point of cruelty.

John were married more than a year ago, and for six months she stood the kissing without a murmur, supposing that in time his osculatory fever would subside. But instead the kisses have become more frequent. The McGrews occupy a farm, where John is trying to cultivate 100 acres. Because of his great desire to kiss, his wife alleges that he has let his crop go to ruin, and that this year they will not raise enough to "feed a chicken."

The first thing in the morning, she avers, John insists upon not only one, but several dozen kisses. Then he starts out to do the work about the barn, returning when she is in the midst of preparing the breakfast. Entering the house, before he sets down the pail of milk, he declares that he must have a few more kisses. This operation is repeated several times, before they sit down to the morning meal.

After breakfast John takes a few more rounds at kissing and then starts for the field. Along about 10 o'clock he returns to the house and there is another session of kissing, after which work in the field is resumed. In the afternoon, Mrs. McGrew declares, he returns to the house once or twice, and no matter who may be there inflicts his kisses. She relates that they attended a country dance. After a couple of sets had been danced, and while everybody was standing around, "John came up," she recites in her petition, "to where I was standing, talking with a couple of women, threw his arms about me, and kissed me at least 50 times. People laughed and made fun of both my husband and myself, humiliating me in a most shocking manner."

WAITS FOR PLANS

American Hide and Leather Company

HAS NOT SUBMITTED PLANS FOR BEAM HOUSE

Board of Health is Waiting—Special Meeting of Both Branches of the City Council This Evening—Other Items of Interest From City Hall

The board of health will meet in regular session this afternoon and will give hearings on several matters, including petitions for stable locations. The American Hide and Leather company has not yet presented its plans for a new and odorless beam house. It is barely possible that the plans will be presented at the meeting this afternoon though no notice to that effect has been given by the company.

Little Romances

The sequel to courtships that were begun in the Azores and in Greece is told on the book of marriage intentions in the city clerk's office. A young couple from the Azores, Manuel Garcia da Roza, 20, and Maria da Gloria Dantas, 23, both mill operatives, who courted in the faraway Azores, will marry in Lowell.

Custos Kardalas came here from Greece and so did Polythina Economopoulos. Custos is a leather worker in Peabody and is 35 years old. Polythina is 25 years old and she lives at 97 Adams street.

Other intentions registered since the last were published include the following:

John J. Hartigan, 27, R. R. checker, 20 Burns street, and Bridget Lowney, 21, at home, 25 Crowley street.

John J. Scanlon, Jr., 22, clerk, 22 Brooks street, and Julia L. Dean, 21, at home, 10 Olive street.

Waldo R. Cumins, 27, broker, 124 Dunbar avenue, and Margaret Molloy, 22, at home, 88 Marginal street.

Special Meetings

Both branches of the city council will meet this evening in special sessions.

The meetings have been called for the purpose of getting rid of a lot of the business that would come up on Tuesday evening next, and that being cautious night it was thought a good plan to get some of the business out of the way. The board of aldermen will draw jurors, while the common council will pass upon the business sent down from the board of aldermen, including the transfers and the proposition to add 15 new firemen to the fire department.

The Milk Inspector

The milk inspector was busy with the analysis of several samples of milk when The Sun reporter dropped in this forenoon. The inspector says that the milk is keeping well up to the standard. Once in a while a storekeeper is found to be negligent, inasmuch as he does not shake the can, and the result is that the cream does not mix through the milk and the second or third purchaser is liable to get pretty thin milk.

The mayor has held up a bill of about $6000, sent in by Herbert E. Fletcher of Westford, for paving blocks used in the paving of Central, Middlesex, Merrimack and Bridge streets.

DIED SUDDENLY

Richard Gilder, Noted Editor, Passed Away

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Richard Watson Gilder, editor-in-chief of the Century Magazine since its foundation in 1881, and widely known as an author and lecturer, died unexpectedly last night at the house of his sister, Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, of angina pectoris. All his children, except his daughter Rosamund, who is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis at the house of a friend, were at the bedside.

Mr. Gilder was taken ill during the delivery of a lecture on "Tennyson" before the Y. M. C. A. of Orange, N. J., on Wednesday night, November 3. He suffered considerable pain, but managed to finish his lecture. On the way home he collapsed in a Jersey City ferryboat, but managed first to summon assistance from New York by telephone. His son Rodman and Dr. J. S. Hodgson hurried to his assistance. The illness was first diagnosed as indigestion and nothing serious was expected to develop from it. Mr. Gilder was up and about the following day, though he suffered occasional seizures of sharp pain. His physicians, on the second diagnosis, realized that the nature of his malady was graver than a mere temporary attack of indigestion, but they did not acquaint Mr. Gilder with the truth.

Yesterday Mr. Gilder had passed a comfortable night and was resting easily in bed. No fears for him were felt and at noon his wife left the house. Shortly after one o'clock she was recalled by an urgent message. Dr. Joseph Collins and Dr. Theodora Janeway were called in consultation with Dr. Hodgson and it was realized that Mr. Gilder had only a few hours to live. He suffered great pain and opiates were administered freely to ease his distress. When the end came at six o'clock he was no longer conscious.

The funeral will be held from the Church of the Ascension, and the burial will be at Dordentown, N. J., where Mr. Gilder was born. The date and the pall bearers have not yet been named. No statement was available last night from the offices of the Century Magazine.

COTTON EXPORTS

Showed a Great Gain in October

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The total value of cotton exports from the United States for the month of October, 1909, as shown by a bulletin issued today by the department of commerce and labor, reached the enormous sum of $88,583,350. In no one previous month has such reports ever reached the $80,000,000 mark. For the ten months of the present year ending with October these exports reached a grand total of $225,520,835 against $316,693,265 in the corresponding period of 1907, the highest record ever attained for a like period. If the present ratio is maintained for November and December all previous records will be broken and the $500,000,000 line will be crossed. Large production and high prices are responsible for this showing.

MANY MATTERS

DISCUSSED BY ST. PETER'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY

In the fair hall, St. Peter's Holy Name society held its regular meeting last night. Vice President Richard Lyons presided. Several propositions for membership were received. A report from the committee in charge of the minstrel show showed progress. The literary committee reported that several lectures have been communicated with, and that some fine lectures will be held this winter before the members. Rev. John Burns, spiritual director of the organization, spoke to the members, complimenting them for their fine showing, and urging them to keep up the good work. Remarks were also heard from Vice Pres. Lyons, Daniel F. Reilly, Michael H. McDonough, James Cook, Joseph Scanlon and James Starr.

MRS. ADA BALLOU

To be Bride of Lyman J. Gage

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Here is a picture of the charming Mrs. Ada Ballou, who will be married to Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury, on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Ballou, who lives at Coronado, near San Diego, Cal., is tall and stately. She has pale blue eyes and a mass of tulle hair. She sings well, plays the piano and has the reputation of being one of the most fascinating women in California. Her first husband died soon after their marriage. Mr. Gage is 73 years old and has been married twice.

Mr. Thomas A. Wise, who plays the part of the senator in the "Gentleman From Mississippi" and a personal friend of Rev. C. E. Fisher, is to speak at the First Universalist church, Sunday evening on "The Relation of the Church to the Stage."

GROWS HAIR ON BALD HEADS

A Remedy That Costs Nothing if It Fails to Do as Claimed.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germicides, discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, also a powerful antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, and thus creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new growth.

Pilocarpine is a well known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease. Yet it is not a coloring matter or dye. The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpine, combined with pure alcohol because of its cleansing and antiseptic qualities. It makes the scalp healthy, nourishes the hair, revitalizes the roots, supplies hair nourishment and stimulates a new growth.

We want you to try a few bottles of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic on our personal guarantee that the trial will not cost you a penny if it does not give you absolute satisfaction. That's proof of our faith in this remedy and it should indisputably demonstrate that we know what we are talking about when we say that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will grow hair on bald heads, except of course where baldness has been of such long duration that the roots of the hair are entirely dead, the follicles closed and grown over, and the scalp is glazed.

Remember, we are basing our statements upon what has already been accomplished by the use of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, and we have the right to assume that what it has done for hundreds of others it will do for you. In any event you cannot lose anything by giving it a trial on our liberal guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Lowell only at our store, The Rexall Store—Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack St.

SENATOR ALDRICH PRESIDENT TAFT

Guest of N. Y. Chamber of Commerce

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, just back from his western trip, was the guest of honor last night at the 141st annual dinner of the New York Chamber of Commerce at the Waldorf-Astoria. At the speaker's table with him sat James Bryce, the British ambassador; Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff, the German ambassador; United States Senators Root and DeLoach; Postmaster General Hitchcock; Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel; former Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou; Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood; J. Pierpont Morgan; Gen. Horace Porter, and Gen. Stewart L. Woodford.

Senator Aldrich responded to the toast "The congress of the United States." Ambassador Bryce in response to a toast "His Majesty, King Edward," said: "The United States has no warmer friend than Edward VII. And he represents the feeling of his people. I, in common with all other Englishmen, have been nothing with satisfaction the growing friendship between the United States and its Canadian neighbors. "Talk of war among nations is foolishness. The nations are all finding out that their prosperity is interdependent. Few men by the way, have done more for world-peace than my friend here, Senator Root, and my other friend here, Count von Bernstorff."

Count von Bernstorff, when his turn came, also ridiculed the idea of war. "International commerce," he said, "is the strongest source making for peace in the world today. It is therefore desirable that all of us should do what we can to establish firm commercial relations between the great nations of the world represented here tonight—America, England and Germany."

A VOLCANO

HAS APPEARED IN MOUNTAINS OF LAS FLORES

MADRID, Nov. 19.—An official despatch received here last night says that a volcano has appeared in the mountains of Las Flores, near the island of Tenerife. Incandescent matter has been thrown out, accompanied by loud explosions. It is not known if there have been any casualties, but three relief ships have been despatched to the scene.

WATERWAYS CONVENTION

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 19.—Resolutions passed at the second annual convention of the Atlantic Deepwaterways association, yesterday, justified a continuance of the proposed Atlantic inland waterways north from New York to Boston, the improvement of the Hudson river as far as Troy and its connection with Long Island sound through the Harlem river and ship canal.

Providence, R. I., was selected as the next place of meeting. The re-election of Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania, president, evoked much enthusiasm. Notable among the addresses made during the day was that of Gov. A. J. Porter of Rhode Island.

Guest of City of Norfolk and the Waterways Ass'n

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 19.—The second annual convention of the Atlantic Deepwaterways association now assembled in this city, took on its most important feature today with the arrival this morning of President Taft for an all-day stay here as the guest of the association and the municipality of Norfolk. The president came in on the Mayflower at 8.30 o'clock, his arrival being announced by a double salute of 21 guns, the first of which was fired by the Norfolk light artillery blues which were stationed right on the riverfront, and the second by the guns of the old receiving ship Franklin at the Norfolk navy yard. It was just as the sun began to shine, lifting a light fog through which the Mayflower had proceeded from Hampton Roads to Norfolk that the president's yacht dropped anchor on the naval anchorage off Hospital point on the Portsmouth side of the river. In a temperature productive of the first ice of the season in Norfolk, President Taft came ashore from the Mayflower on the naval tug Mohawk, upon which he was met by Rear-Admiral E. D. Tansie, commanding this naval station, and the joint committee of the city of Norfolk and the waterways convention. Proceeding at once from the landing to the hotel, Pres. Taft accorded a reception to members and delegates to the waterways convention after which he proceeded to the grand stand erected at the confederate monument, where before delivering his address of the day he reviewed a military and civic parade, the chief marshal of which was Col. Waller, U. S. M. C., famous during the Philippine campaign for his heroic march across Samar and later prominent with the American forces in the Boxer uprising in China.

Facts About the Hall & Lyon Co.Cigars

THEY sell more cigars at retail than any one concern in New England. They sell the products of leading foreign and domestic manufacturers, and are distributors for many well known brands—each of their eleven shops being equipped with patent moistening cases in which a complete line of popular goods is carried, always in prime condition to smoke. In this department only men educated to the business are employed. They employ an expert who knows the quality of a cigar and how, when and where to buy it, and who further knows that he receives what he has bought. The volume of their cigar business, their buying power, and their knowledge of the goods they are buying, enable them to sell cigars singly or by the box at a saving to the consumer and an increased profit to themselves.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was

15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

CANDIDATES OBSERVE THE PROPRIETIES.

The candidates now seeking the democratic nomination for mayor are to be congratulated on the gentlemanly campaign they are conducting. Formerly, under like conditions, democratic candidates have been known to blacken one another all over with political mud, so that whichever got the nomination was doomed to defeat, because the friends of the other candidates would not support him and second, because his rivals had supplied his opponent with abundant ammunition to use against him. Nothing of this kind has occurred in this campaign, nor is it likely to occur in the interval before the caucuses. On that the candidates and the party are to be congratulated.

POOR SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION.

The superintendent of schools in Boston announces that there are in that city 10,553 children who are not properly provided for in school accommodation.

Either the buildings are poor or they are too small, and the children are too much crowded. It is very important that in all school rooms not only the light and ventilation be good but that there be a sufficient amount of air space for each child present. Where this is deficient the air cannot be kept as pure as it should be, by the ordinary methods of ventilation. Such a state of affairs is not at all creditable to the city of Boston that boasts of her refinement and culture.

We believe the city of Lowell can felicitate itself upon the fact that the school children are well provided for, except in a very few cases. It is claimed that the schools on Chapel Hill and the Colburn school are not what they should be, but still there is no danger to the health of the children either from crowding or from poor ventilation. It would be hard, we believe, to find a city in which the school accommodations in regard to the buildings are better than in Lowell.

THE TELEPHONE COMPANY.

It is to be hoped that the acquisition of the Western Union Telegraph company by the Bell Telephone company will result in the improvement and extension of the telegraph service which of late has been complained of for excessive charges and indifference to public interests.

The combination is so large that it will hereafter be regarded as a monopoly, dangerous to public interests. The very size of it will invite opposition even though its dealings with the people be above criticism. Such mammoth accumulations of capital are always suspected of cheating the public. In regard to the telephone, however, and even the telegraph, both are inventions of incalculable value, and it is no wonder at all that the company controlling either has waxed immensely rich, and that, too, without practising extortion on the public.

With a company like the Standard Oil, the case is different. That company searched about the country for oil wells and secured a monopoly of them. These wells are a natural product of the earth and should belong to the owner of the land on which they are located, but Rockefeller and his company snapped them up before their real value was known.

WHAT IS EXPECTED OF VOTERS.

We have remarked to the voters and we may remind them again that at the coming primaries they are not going to vote for mayor, but they are expected to use their best judgment in selecting from the five democrats running the one who will be the strongest politically as the opponent of the republican candidate. Remember that the exigencies of the situation demand the selection of a democratic candidate whose eminent fitness and ability will appeal so strongly to voters of all classes that they will flock to his support, rejoicing in the fact that they have a candidate in every way superior to his republican opponent. Your best and strongest man is the one to choose, and only the best can do justice to the democratic party.

The Sun does not discriminate for or against any candidate, but merely cautions the voters not to throw away their votes on weak candidates who have no chance of nomination and who, if nominated, would stand but a poor chance of election.

The candidates have been before the electorate long enough for any voter to find out just who is most likely to sweep the city and redeem it from the conditions that have prevailed during the present year. Put forward your strongest man for mayor, as otherwise you will invite defeat.

Remember you are not doing any candidate a good turn if you help to put him up only to be knocked down. Vote according to your judgment, not for your friend or somebody else's friend, just because he is so, but for the man whom you believe to be most likely to defeat the republican candidate. By doing that you will do your full duty as a democrat and victory will be the result.

The voters as a rule have but a slight appreciation of the value of a few votes. Remember that many an important election has been turned to one side or another by one, two or three votes.

Therefore we would appeal to all democrats to attend the caucuses and vote according to their best judgment for the man who is most likely to bear the democratic standard to victory in the municipal election. If you fail to do this the responsibility will rest partly on your shoulders if any weak candidate be named or if the nominee goes down in defeat on election day.

The primaries are of fundamental importance to the democratic party. If mistakes are made there they cannot be remedied on election day. The democrat who, under present conditions, remains away from the caucuses does not deserve the right of citizenship because he neglects to use it for the city's good in an important crisis. Let all democrats, therefore, attend the caucuses, so that the nominee will reflect the will of the entire party and that perfect harmony may prevail in supporting the candidate nominated at next Tuesday's caucuses.

SEEN AND HEARD

It's much easier to lay plans than to hatch them out.

It's easier to get rich after you have the first million.

Is it better to be "pinched" for money than "touched" for it?

Love is blind—also deaf when it comes to listening to reason.

Many a man's success in love is due to the fact that he speaks twice before he thinks once.

"We starve each other for love's caress."

We take, but we do not give; It seems so easy some soul to bless. But we dole the love grudgingly less and less, Till 'tis bitter and hard to live."

Judge Gaynor, mayor-elect of New York, testifies to the high character of the newspaper reporters who were assigned to follow him during the exciting campaign. He says: "Not a confidence was broken, nor a mean thing done. I was told that I ought to have a manager and turn you over to him, but I knew it was not necessary. I was once one of you." If Mr. Bannard should be asked to say something on the subject he would say the same thing.

It is very seldom, says the New Haven Journal-Courier, that the reporter comes in for the recognition which is his due. No squarer worker will be found in any field of occupation and no man freer from the taint of prejudice. It is not our intention to place a halo about the head of the reporter. He would be the last to wear it contentedly. It is just as well to remember, however, that met on equal ground he is faithful to his job, his editor and the man he has business with.

The car left the corner of Main and Centre streets, Campbell-bound, early last evening, with a new arrival in town aboard, who, judged by the two bulky traveling bags he carried, must have been a traveling salesman. He was smoking a good cigar, too—the kind that usually go down on the expense list—and he leaned against the controller on the rear platform just as if he was a stockholder in the company. At Crescent street a vision in red got on. The stranger showed signs of life. He started a conversation with a reporter at his elbow, requesting to know who the fair maiden might be. The scribe couldn't tell him, but this didn't dampen his admiration for the young woman in the least.

"But you'll find out who she is before I leave this boat," he said. There were no takers.

The talkative man turned and addressed the conductor, asking him who the lady was. The conductor official wasn't paying any attention, however, being busy calling out names of streets as the car reached each corner. But just then he chanced to announce:

"Florence—Packard!"

"Much obliged," said the inquirer, graciously, and then, turning to the newspaper man, said triumphantly: "Didn't I tell you I'd find out?"

But a moment later he became enlightened when the conductor pulled the bell and called out:

"David—Hancock!"—Brooklyn Times.

between Professor Percival Lowell, head of the observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., and Professor E. C. Pickering of Harvard observatory. The claim is that Professor Lowell desires to have the world news of a planetary nature filed at his Arizona observatory, which would thus be used as a central distributing point, while Professor Pickering knows of no reason why the university in Cambridge should not be recognized as heretofore as the center of information in things astronomical. The theory of the difference claimed to exist between these men is that former findings from the Arizona observatory were allowed to die a natural death after being sent to the Harvard observatory. It is interesting in this connection to recall that Professor Lowell is brother of the new president of Harvard.

Henry Clay Barnabee, the veteran singer, celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday anniversary on Sunday at his home, "The Blues," in Jamaica Plain. His old friend and comrade in operatic life, Tom Karl, the tenor, was among those to congratulate Mr. Barnabee. The famous singer of "The Cork Leg" received quantities of flowers from those aware of his anniversary. Mr. Barnabee is a native of Portsmouth, N. H.

town, have given $25,000 for the founding of the Phoebe Putney hospital in their home city in Georgia. It is stipulated that the negroes shall benefit, as well as white folks in this hospital, which is to be a memorial to Judge Putney's mother.

The king's Christmas card has already been chosen and is in the process of being printed. King Edward sends these cards broadcast at holiday season to his intimate friends. This year the subject chosen for the card is an illustration of an incident in King Arthur's reign, the admission of Sir Tristram to the fellowship of the Round Table.

Queen Alexandra has preferred a later period of history for her selection—the intervention of Queen Philippa on behalf of the citizens of Calais; and her card depicts the consort of Edward III interceding with her husband on behalf of those prisoners of war.

The Princess of Wales has gone to the earlier days of Alfred the Great's life for her card, which is adorned with a picture of Alfred as a boy reading aloud to his mother.

THE GOVERNMENT

Is Trying to Locate Astor's Yacht

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—In an effort to locate the yacht Nourmahal on which Col. John Jacob Astor, his son Vincent and a party of friends are cruising, the government has swept the entire middle South Atlantic ocean. Cablegrams have been sent from the revenue cutter service to all points in the West Indies with a view of locating the missing yacht. Thus far not a word has been received from the vessel.

The treasury officials believe the yacht has gone into some obscure harbor to avoid rough weather. Credence is given to the report of the yacht by a fruiter, although it is not certain that the vessel sighted by the fruiter was the Nourmahal.

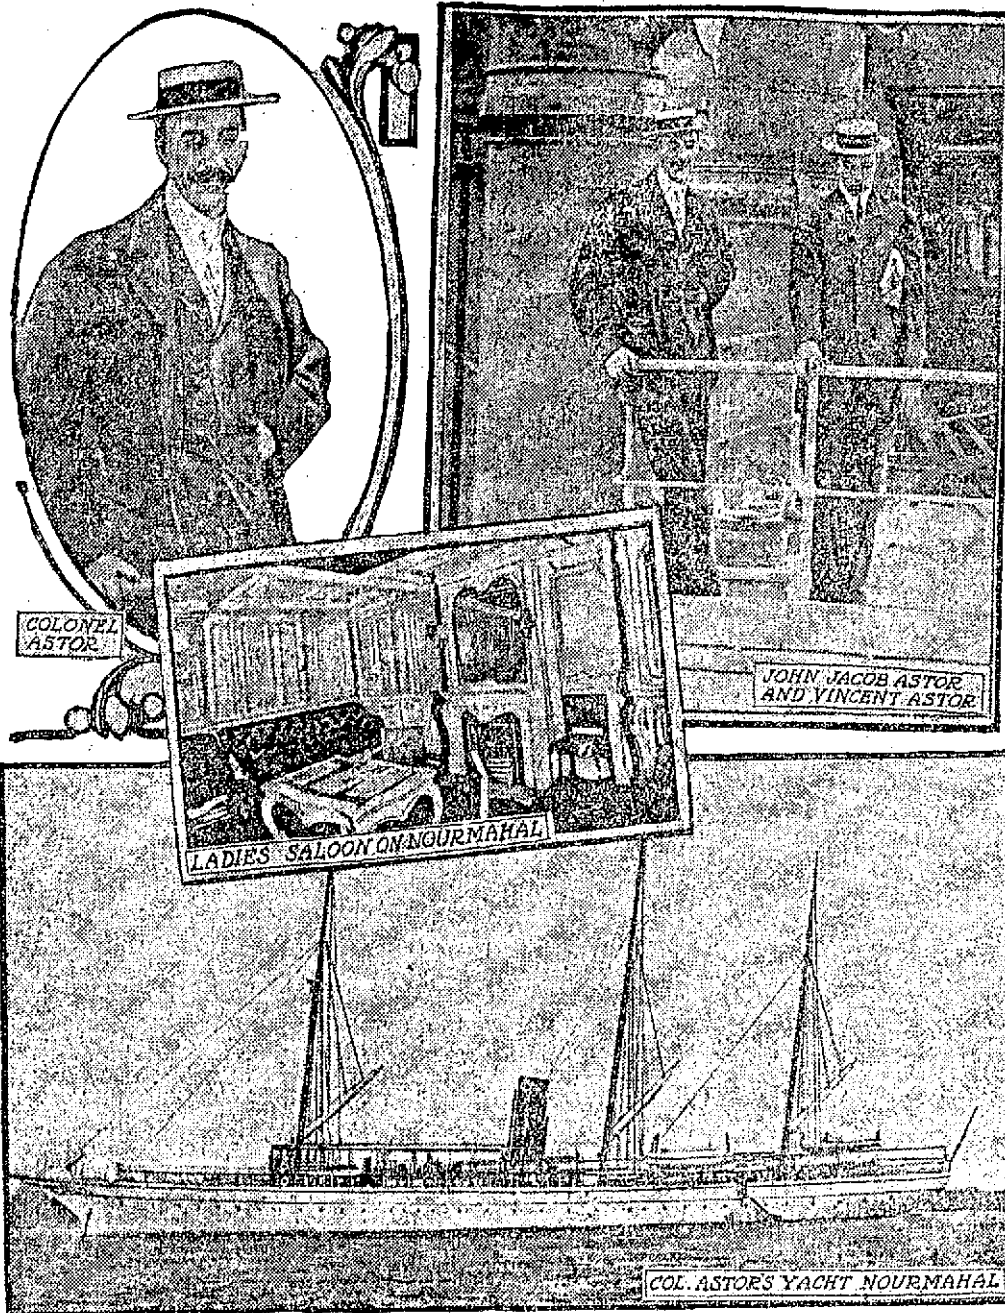

KAUFMAN RELEASED

BURLIN, Nov. 19.—Martin Kaufman of New York, who was arrested on Nov. 4 charged with having committed frauds in connection with the Cotton Goods Converters Co. of New York, was released by the authorities today. He voluntarily accompanied U. S. Post-Office Inspector Hill, who made the arrest to Antwerp, where both will take the steamer Kroonland for New York. Extradition proceedings, which had been undertaken by the American embassy, were dropped on Kaufman's decision to return of his free will to the United States.

NEW TRIAL DENIED

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The application of E. E. Britton and F. A. Schroeder, former president and vice president of the Eagle Loan & Savings Co. for a new trial, was denied today by Justice Stapleton and the two bankers will have to go to Sing Sing prison on Monday. The two men were convicted of misappropriating $43,000 of the funds of the association of which they were officers. Britton's sentence is not less than 14 months nor more than three years and Schroeder's not less than one year nor more than three years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The long delay in hearing from Col. John Jacob Astor and his son Vincent, who were cruising on the yacht Nourmahal in the Caribbean sea when the great hurricane swept the West Indies, caused grave alarm among the friends of the millionaire all over the world. For several days cable communication with the West Indies was cut off owing to the storm, and no wireless messages reached the outer world from that quarter of the globe. It was believed that when the cables got to working Mr. Astor would communicate with the New York Yacht club, but nothing has been heard from him since Nov. 8. Mr. Astor and his son sailed just a few days before public announcement was made of Mrs. Astor's suit for divorce. When the yacht reached Port Antonio, Jamaica, reporters went aboard and asked Mr. Astor about the suit, but he flatly refused to discuss it. It is not believed that he knows yet that the decree has been granted. The Nourmahal is the most palatial yacht afloat. Her furnishings are also the most elaborate of any private vessel in the world. She can steam 5000 miles without replenishing her coal supply and carries a full equipment of lifeboats and steam launches besides a crew of fifty men. She is also equipped with wireless apparatus.

Heard in the Court at Hartford

HARTFORD, Nov. 19.—In an attempt to show how the alleged boycott of the hat factory of Lowe & Co. of Danbury was conducted by trade unionists in Boston, depositions by ho-ho-ho-ho-ho were read when the case was called in court today. Several firms gave up handling the hats because they did not want the enmity of the labor interests, according to their depositions. The lawyers for the defense are endeavoring to show that no coercion was used in the crusade to have dealers eliminate non-union hats from their stores.

About Dresses—There is one at $15—a voile, prettily trimmed with satin ribbon; at $10.50, a pretty serge; at $15, an embroidered broadcloth. An assortment that affords you a good selection. Broadcloth Suits at $14.75. You can really take away $2.75 for they're worth $18.50. They are plain tailored, satin lined, of course, in navy blue and black. At $18.50 you may own a $22.50 Serge Suit in blue or black. One of those dressy kind that always appear well—for church—for street—or at home—and so on $20 to $50 with a great many stops between—suits at each range and such a number of varied styles.

There's a Coat Rush Coming

We know the signs—first a few queries—then interested looking—then a rush to be waited on. We are ready for the rush.

TOP COATS AT $10.00

The swell mixtures you admire—you can pay $12, $15, or even $18.50, for fancy models. Blacks and blues at $12.50, this one such a smart model—plaided tucks, military collar—such a coat as you'd be glad to pay $18.50, but we are partners with you, hence the $10 saving.
